CARPE DIEM

Vol. 5

Dwight-Englewood School
315 E. Palisade Ave.
Englewood, NJ 07631

CELEBRATING
8 YEARS AT
DWIGHT ENGLEWOOD
CIRCUS

We, the Class of 1985, have chosen to use this opportune occasion to put the shine of the spotlight on a loving, loyal member of our dynamic DES community.

Confidently carrying much responsibility, and serviceably spending millions of his minutes in the gym, this jovial gentleman is the supporting spirit behind many exciting events, subtly supplying the essential efforts that magically make things run with required regularity.

Contributing candidly to the bountiful beauty of our campus kingdom, this man immeasurably improves the atmospheric ambiance with his presence.

Spreading sunshine with his warm welcomes and sincere smiles, this precious performer is a paragon of perennial patience and profundity. Always available with a witty word of wisdom, he habitually helps us understand the undeniable importance of our work.

For the six spectacular years that we, the seniors, have been developing here at Dwight, this charming chap has been the epitome of magnificent moral strength and faithful friendship. Emanating as much happiness as is humanly possible, he has selflessly shared his jaunty joy of life with us, and we are everlastingly indebted to him for this. As evidence of our esteem for the devotion, determination and delight that we have witnessed in him, we dedicate this yearbook to a man we greatly love and admire:

JAMES MCGILL

TO SCHOLARS OF ALL AGES!!!

COME ONE, COME ALL!! I'm proud to welcome you to the super, shining, spangled yearbook of D.E.S.! Get set for prolific pages of true-to-life, fun-filled memories from your perpetuating past. As you revel in this spectacular, spirited edition, you'll be astounded by our fabulous, funny, flamboyant circus family; a tightly-knit, hard-working group which typifies the age-old heritage of wholesome, family dedication that adds so much enduring magic to The Greatest Show On Campus.

All year long the dazzling display of talents and skills of each member works willfully to make this production the breath-taking event it's famous as. Yes, each and every one of our extraordinary entourage is a serious cog in our splendid family. Search the world over, and you won't find a more inspired, more amazing assembly of skillful students than those of the widely renown Dwight Englewood School. Here, masterful minds wishing to make dashing, dynamic debuts operate under the fiercest of pressures and proudly produce prestigious prizes. You'll gasp at the endurance and inspiration which forms an interminable, impetuous part of our breath-taking bedazzlement!!

Statospheric showmanship is externally exhibited through truly triumphant, decisive dexterity at attaining the impossible. Even the most demanding, "let-me-live-through-this" rehearsals at odd, inconvenient intervals could not stiffly squelch the energy and excitement which emanates from persistent pursuit of the ultimate, unprecedented, unparalleled union with greatness.

Our magnificent, mind-boggling display is justifiably called THE GREATEST SHOW ON CAMPUS because of the stupendous situations, the awesome advantages available to the globe's greatest gathering, our familiar family, all of whom put forth that extra effort towards totally transfixing treats.

Now prepare yourself for a once-in-a-lifetime look from behind the scenes of the 1985 trip to THE CIRCUS!!!

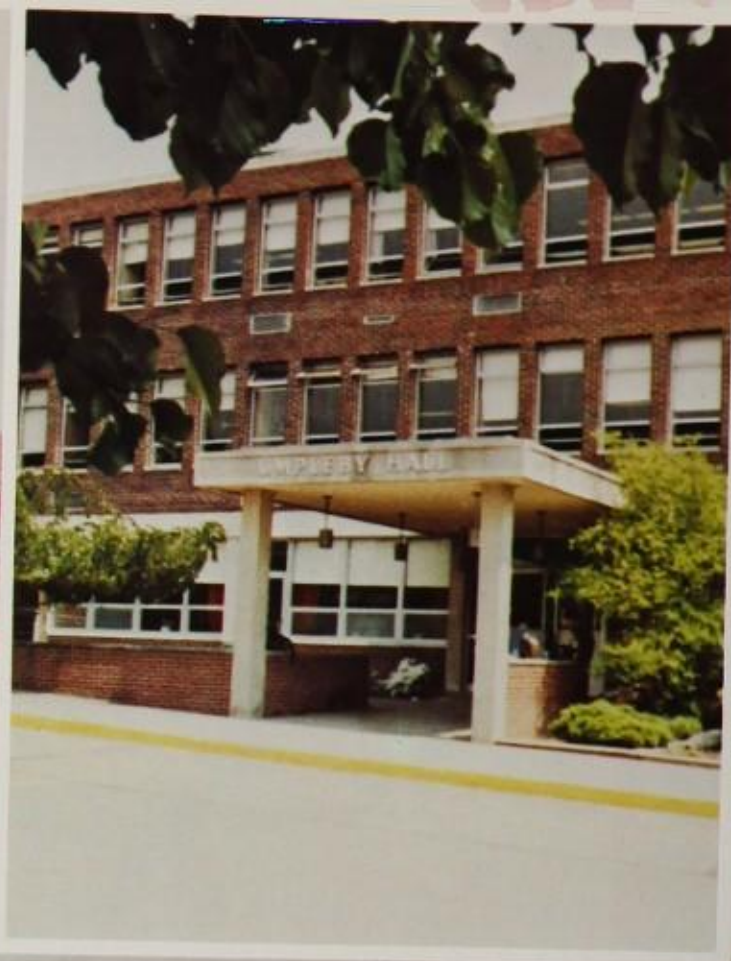

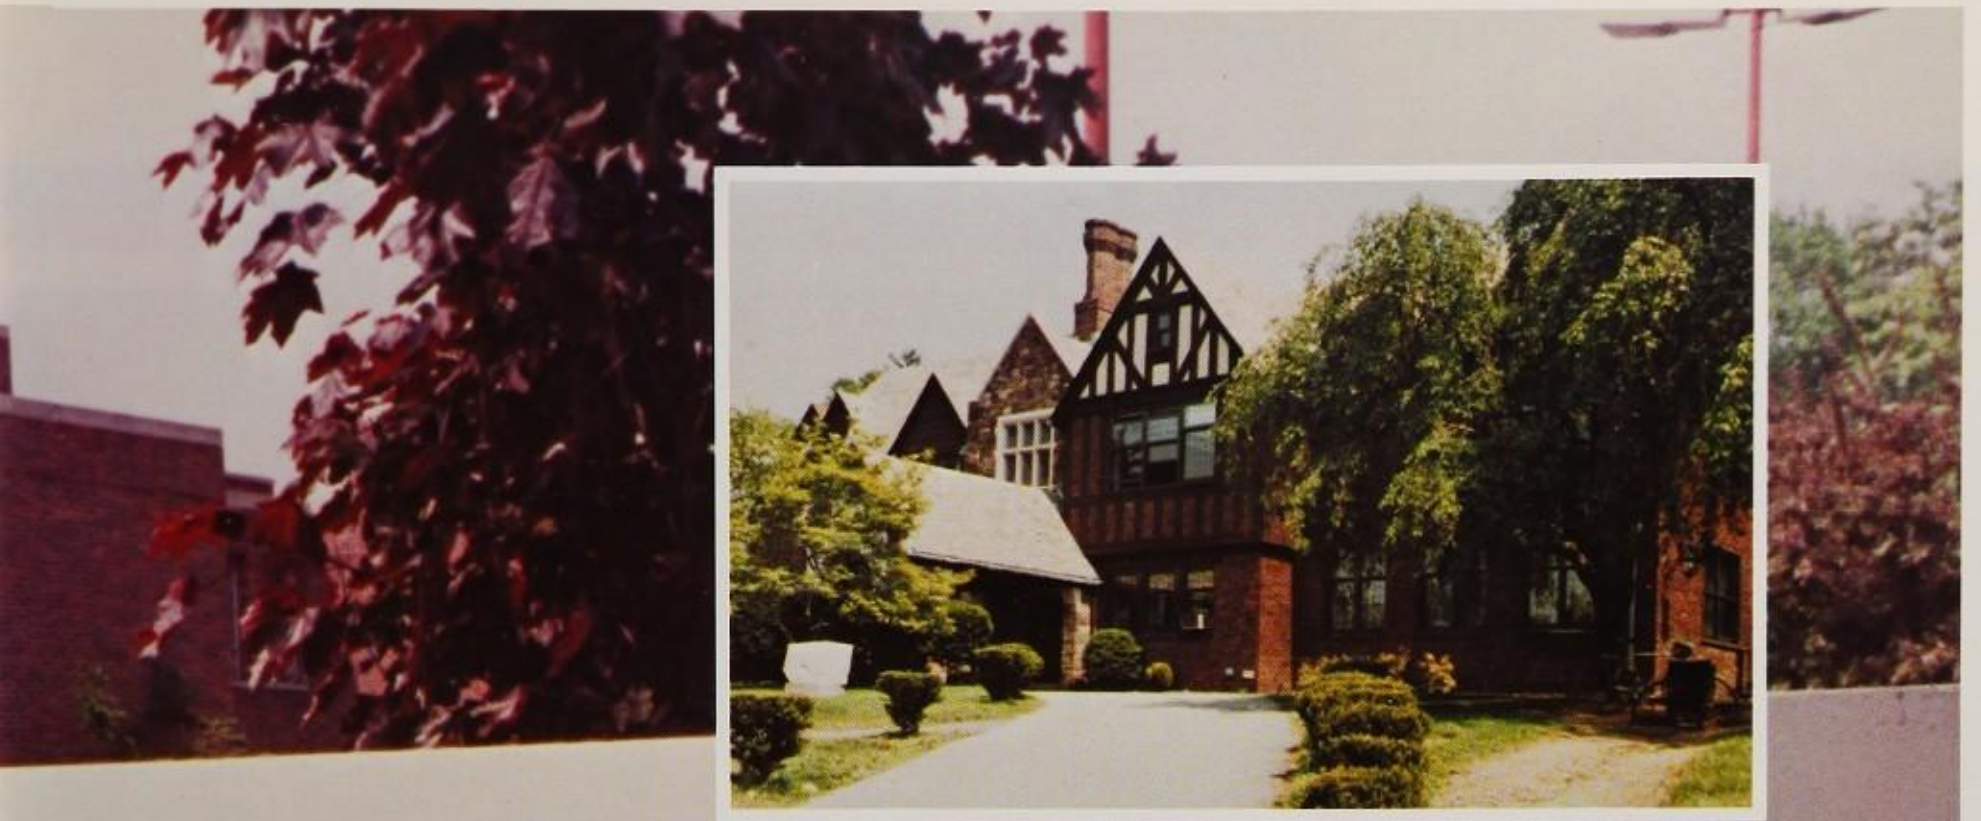

As one of our many magnanimous fans, your enjoyment and ultimate understanding of this enjoyable environment is supremely special to us. Therefore, we have created a terrific tour to guide you through our wonderful world. This is where it all begins; at our Dwight-Englewood School sign. Quite an eye-catching symbol of the fabulously fun-filled dedication and organized organization of our sparkling system, don't you think?

Let's begin with our closest stop. This is the eminently reputable Umpleby Hall. It is only here that most of our younger circus members smoothe out their acts, practice their dexterous skills and enjoy their first few years of luxuriant life at D.E.S. From here, if you look really hard, you can see our extensive practice ring. It includes two tremendous gyms, a wonderful weight room, a dazzling dance studio, and other cozy corners.

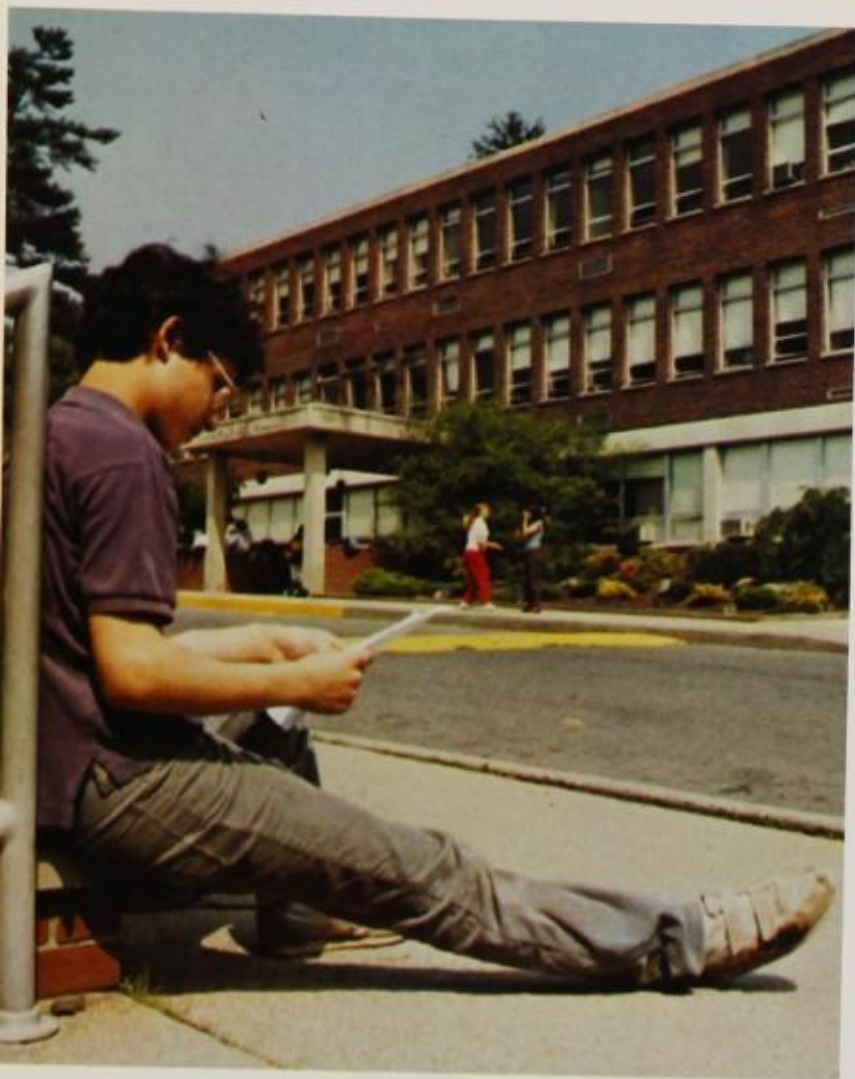

Next, we usually suggest that you stroll towards the world-famous Leggett Hall, the distinguished Dwight House, and our honorable Arts Building. Being involved in the perilous antics of circus life, the circus members find it necessary to spend hours on and practicing and perfecting the quantity and quality of the ongoing ostentation in the three rings. Bordered by fields and flowers, these shining shelters enclose all the acrobats, daredevils, ringleaders, clowns, dancers, unicyclists, animal trainers, and flying trapeze artists. They are the forums that host the intellect and creativity behind the entire extravaganza displayed in the colorfully exciting scenes of action.

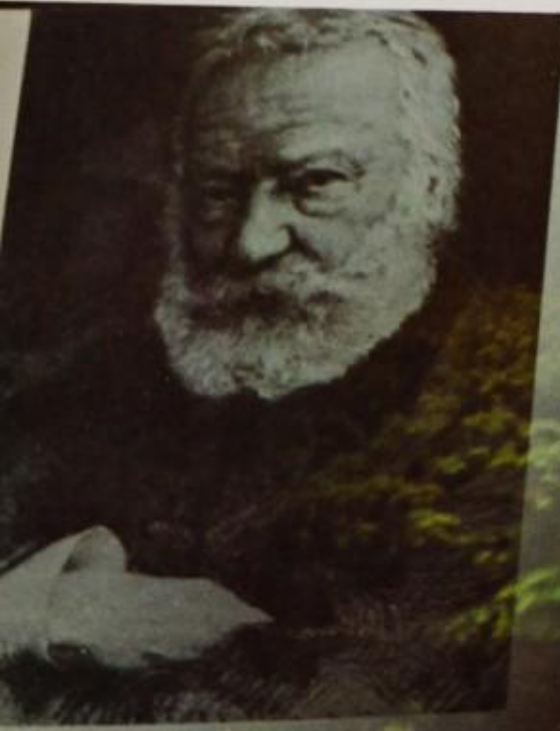

Now that you are familiar with our enormously exciting atmosphere, let's try to find you the best seat in the house. As you can see, we have many miraculously marvelous spots from which you can witness every incredible feature of this stupendous show! A few of our friends have chosen a more secluded area in which they are able to concentrate on the depth and danger that they will encounter. Others prefer to be surrounded by the constant action and bright lights booming in each section of our arena. As a special treat, we'll introduce you to some of the special acts and showmen responsible for the rip-roaring, rambunctious rampage bursting through the celebrated doors of this institution. Here you'll find a unique breed of high quality entertainment unattainable anywhere else!

To these members, this performance is a symbol of tradition and supernatural commitment. It is quite obvious to anyone who sees the well-understood expressions of inspiration and thrill on their many faces that they are quite enthralled. Children of all ages gather round and find your astonishing seats for this year's spectacular performance! Some may contemplate the courage and coordination of those able to succeed at the improbable with confounding creativity. Others, never showing doubt or disbelief will enjoy witnessing all the impossible feats, absorbing actions, shining surprises, undefinable uniqueness, and indescribable incidents continually created.

- Madame Magloire, dit l'évêque, vous êtes une brave femme.<sup>43</sup>
 Madame Magloire sortit pour exécuter son devoir. L'évêque se tourna vers l'homme.
 - Monsieur, asseyez-vous et reposez-vous. Ici, on ne fait rien. Et l'on fera votre lit pour la nuit.
 L'homme comprit tout à l'heure. Il se mit à balbutier.
 - Qu'est-ce que ça veut dire, monsieur? vous ne m'avez rien dit.
 - Croyez bien que vous n'avez rien dit. La brave femme qui m'a servi du thé, des matelas<sup>50</sup> et des draps! Elle m'a couché dans un lit. Vous voyez, bien que je ne m'en souviens<sup>51</sup> gens! D'ailleurs j'ai de l'argent. Je paierai bien.

... argent. Cor
 ... l'homme.
 ... francs quinze sous. Et combien
 Dix-neuf ans.
 - Dix-neuf ans!
 L'évêque soupira<sup>50</sup> profondément.
 - Monsieur le curé, dit l'homme, vous êtes vous m'avez chez vous. Je ne vous ai pour un homme malheureux.
 L'évêque, assis près de lui, lui toucha douce
 - Vous pouvez pas me dire qui vous est

... dit l'évêque, un prêtre - qui demeure
 pas besoin que je paie?

... que je vous attends chez moi. Personne n'est ici bien. Je vous le dis à vous qui pa que m'avez rien dit.

Before you make a decision on your final destination, please consider the panorama of opportunities readily available in each ring. They each circumscribe the colossal concentration and mental magnificence that soars through the air and leads each performer to success. Make sure you can also see each unmatched act with ease; we wouldn't want you to miss a single second of it!

Patience, confidence and unbounding interest are equally important in forming this stunning style. Whether it be in groups or one-on-one, each circus member trains to achieve and exhibit the abundantly acclaimed quality of skill, daring, and grace for your eye-popping excitement.

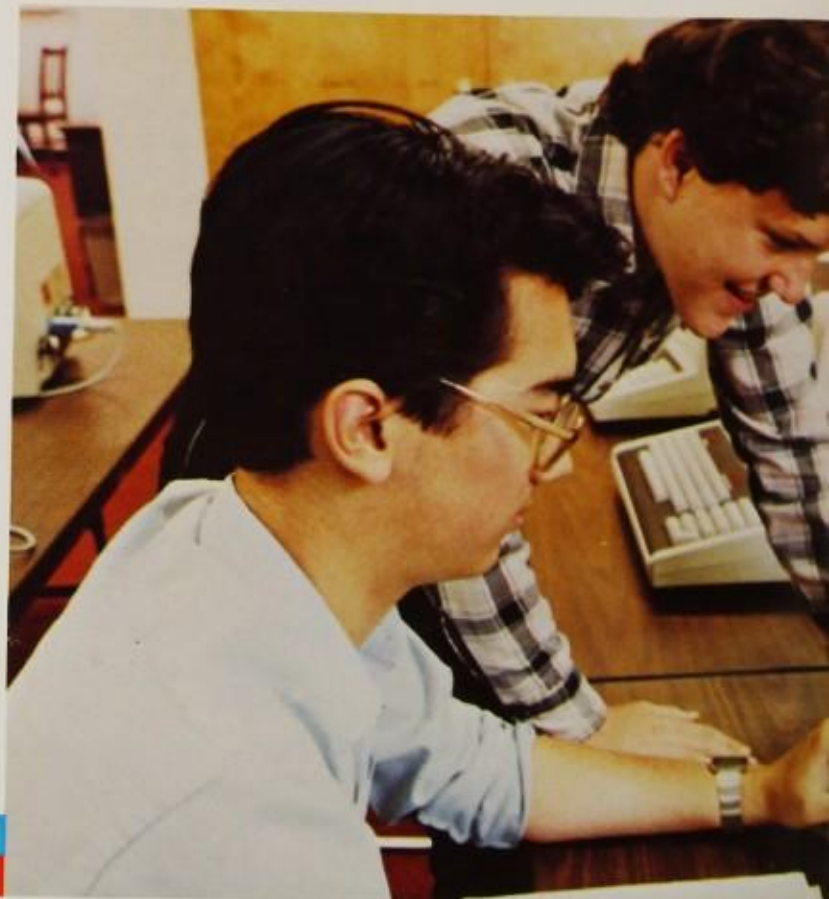

Our numerous circus skills allow each and every member of our unprecedented staff to exemplify their dual versatility in a popularly proficient manner. You might prefer a seat here because of the augmenting intensity infused within the benevolent heart and soul of these showmen. This particular section best displays the craftsmanship of the V.I.P's — Very Important Performers! The triumphant combination of music and mind adds to their impressive mastery of circus life. This undeniable juxtaposition is guided and guarded by the exemplary educators. But come! The tour is almost over ...

Over here we have the devoutly dedicated action of our spirited showstoppers. These fearless young trainees are the pacesetters of future generations. Their grueling goals of greatness inspire them, and others, onward in a manner only special circus members can.

One last look at our practice ring makes you understand how chasing and conquering an impossible dream is possible. Constant striving for the gold at the end of the rainbow leads this circus to great fame and future fortune.

And now, ladies and gentlemen, there's a remarkable rise of excitement in the air! Admittedly, these past pages of peculiar pattern have been too tantalizingly trite. Please accept our utmost apology for teasing you with mere glimpses at our frighteningly fantastic family, and continue onward for a systematic scrutiny of our sincere scenes.

The rush is on! A craze is all ablaze! QUICK! Don't miss your chance, there's still a few seats left . . .

Now On With The Show

Now, Scholars of all Ages,

We gladly start our tale . . .!

Of tents, sun and fun,

of learning through and through.

And all about the people,

our Friends so tried, so true,

The story of the Circus — It's Dwight Englewood's story too!

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, SCHOLARS OF ALL AGES —

You're in for an extraordinary treat! Before our show begins, we would like you to meet the famed participants, our phenomenal performing acts. Grab your programs, finish finding your seats, hold on to your refreshments — the traditional introductory parade is about to begin! Here they come, the leaders of the pack, the spectacular supporters of the production — the members of the Administration. As you can obviously see, their effervescence flows from the head of the line on down. These revered leaders set a steady work pace for the entire year. Next come the students. Their fearless frolicsomeness enables them to follow the patterns laid out for them by the administration. Their healthy attitudes show in their faces and in their excellent skills, academic and otherwise. To always keep an eye out for their precious performers, the trainers follow closely behind. They are placed in line according to their acts. It is this incredible closeness and warm family atmosphere that sparks our ringleader's pride and makes him shout those familiar words "LET THE SHOW BEGIN!!!".

The Spunky Seventh Grade

The spunky seventh graders were apprehensive about their first year at DES. They were suddenly faced with big text books, major and minor course choices, a precisely calculated schedule, a teacher for each class, a grade level advisor, extra curricular opportunities, sports, trips, dances, the Science Fair, plays and Talk II. They were also given the opportunity to partake in a learning experience called "Nature's Classroom." Fund raising for Ethiopia and taking special trips were also part of their year.

The enthralling eighth graders practice their circus skills, using their one year of experience to their advantage and becoming more involved in sports, plays and publications. They participate in weekly rap sessions called Peer Group Meetings which are run by juniors and seniors. The musically oriented members of this grade belong to the Eighth Grade Chorus which, this year, sang superbly with the high school.

The fearless freshmen flyers are often found flowing through the fanciful halls of Pope. The frolicsome freshmen enjoy exciting experiences like joining varsity and junior varsity sports, participating in upper school meetings and activities, attend upper school lunch, and generally become part of the upper school circus community. They are also faithful members of choral groups, student government, and other fun-filled committees. They can no longer be dilettantes as this year marks the beginning of their high school careers, and workloads. With high spirits and open minds, they try hard to smoothly integrate themselves into the shining world of circus supremacy.

The Stupendous Sophomore's new tent is located in Dwight House. This is the year in which they learn about difficult courses and equally heavy books! Aside from gaining the privilege of being a true circus member of the Upper School, they inherit added pressures. They start to become more involved in extracurricular activities and at the same time plan Theme Day. To help them organize their schedules and reach their maximum potential, they have their superb grade-level advisor, Mr. Vigneau. Although academic life is getting progressively harder, with achievements and credit requirements, social life is getting progressively better. Despite the difficult challenges they are faced with, these terrific tenth graders always seem to shine. Hang in there sophomores. Everyone is rooting for you.

The classy act that constructs the crew of '86, the junior jugglers, entered their entirely infamous endeavor of surviving strenuous situations which are singular to the eleventh grade seasons with vehement vigor and compelling confidence. In the harrowing heat of heavy homework, troublesomely tagged on the treacherous tests effectively entitled SAT's & Achievements, these jewels of jocular jousting jeeringly jab at the depths of despair. Unconditionally undaunted by these otherwise overwhelming obstacles, these courageous circus comrades continue to commit their spare seconds to sports and other accredited activities. Included in their important itinerary is the acquirement of liberating driver's licenses, heading the two committees which set up a spectacular Spring Fair and popularly praised Prom, and become initially informed in the wonderful world of College seeking.

The years have passed leaving turbulence in their wake these things hurt me now more than the pain I knew when I was so young

Time passes, faces change and still I have myself
I empty desk drawers and memories leap at me

Remember always remember

Sometimes I wander back and old faces reappear
Clear, young and wild. where are they now?

Do they think of me

Of times of deep friendship, of tears,
Of laughter in the night, of silent kisses

Under adolescent stars?

They're gone now, all of them

But only til I close my eyes and give them life once again

The years have passed

But their warmth still remains buried beneath the surface

If the Impressionists Had Been Dentists

Dear Theo,
Will life never treat me decently? I am wracked by despair! My head is pounding! Mrs. Sol Schwimmer is suing me because I made her bridge as I felt it and not to fit her ridiculous mouth! That's right! I can't work to order like a common tradesman! I decided her bridge should be enormous and billowing, with wild, explosive teeth flaring up in every direction like fire!
Now she is upset because it won't fit in her mouth! She is so bourgeois and stupid, I want to smash her! I tried forcing the false plate in but it sticks out like a starburst chandelier. Still, I find it beautiful. She claims she can't chew!
What do I care whether she can chew or not! Theo, I can't go on like this much longer! I asked Cezanne if he would share an office with me, but he is old and infirm and the instruments must be tied to his wrists but then he

THE ROAD NOT TAKEN
Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I —
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

THE EXCITING ENGLISH DEPT.

This season's energetic English department proudly prides itself in a fine faculty. These trainers are responsible for revealing the romance and structural stability of our language. Each and every circus member strengthens their skills with colorful courses such as journalism and creative writing. For those circus students with special skills in this are strut their stuff in rigorous routines such as the Honors Program and AP English. This department is the reason our precocious performers express themselves so superbly.

This year's English department prides itself in a fine collection of trainers. A trainer's job entails showing their students the ropes of "paper writing", grammar, and spelling. There are more rigorous programs, such as AP English, and Honors English, for students with special school of skill. Every circus member is encouraged to strengthen his skills with fun courses like journalism and creative writing. This is where our proud performers learn to express themselves better.

High Class Historians

Another group of masterful trainers that helps produce this marvelous show is the history teachers. These talented teachers tell of tantalizing tales, both past and present. Their ample encouragement sparks interest in the minds of anxious circus members. To guide the students through ages of adventure, they take them on tell-tale trips and lead them through purposeful projects. With their help, each enlightening event and magical mystery is able to be explored successfully.

The magnificent Math department consists of clever characters who juggle figures fantastically. They tame terrifying triangles, roaring radicals, and uncontrollable inequalities. They have also mastered the skills and tricks of using the new worldwide wonder — the computer. They guide young performers through the rigors of their trade from basic arithmetic to devilish calculus. This dedicated group has, through years of experience, discovered the secret to making even the most challenging stunts seem thrilling.

The Amazing Art Department

The Awesome Art Department, chaired by Lenore Berck, is comprised of a collection of truly tremendously talented teachers of art, music, drama, and dance. Proof of the success of this department comes in the form of amazing art shows put together by Nanette Carter; magnificent music concerts orchestrated by Brian Aschinger and Ann Crawford; dazzling drama productions directed by Martin Nordal and Greg Cummings; and dozens of dynamic dance concerts choreographed by Carolyn Cardwell. They, again, proved to give the students an outlet for their creativity.

OUR FABULOUS PHYS. ED.

Geralyn Kossmann

The Physical Education department has always been supremely successful in providing the performers with outstanding training. The infallible instructors offer an incredible variety of skill-building exercises. They help improve the entertainers' balance and coordination so they can safely manage such death-defying acts as crossing the tightrope. The drills range from Project Adventure to Weight Training, to Care and Prevention, covering all aspects of physical education. Fortunately, they have excellent facilities and several splendid fields on which to perform perfectly.

The Lively Language Dept.

Barbara Meyer — chairperson

The dynamite language department, headed by Barbara Meyer, consists of a fantastically fine collection of teachers who have personally mastered at least one language. The most common languages at Dwight Englewood are French and Spanish, but there is also an increasing interest in Latin. These terrific teachers teach grammar, culture, and reading. Class levels range from the introductory level to the A.P. and conversational level. The most important part of studying a foreign language is the development of confidence and motivation. This is the key to the supreme success of the intellectual curiosity of the performers.

OUR LEADING LIBRARIANS

Margery Landau

The libraries are probably the only comfortably quiet places on campus. It is here that the performers master such skills as researching and reading. These skills are just as important as those displayed on the fields. Each library is managed by very helpful librarians who provide additional information as well as guidance through the numerous volumes of books. Their eagerness and encouragement help motivate the students to explore the expansive entries into the world of knowledge.

OUR NOVEL NURSE, AMIABLE ATTENDANCE OFFICER AND REGALED REGISTRAR

Almost all are affectionately acquainted with the knowledgeable nurse, and her compatible chum. Ms. Orovio takes care of any aches, or pains our prime performers might carelessly contract during the course of a busy day. The organized office is always overflowing with people plagued by a myriad of maladies. Mrs. Glynn also has a very demanding job. She carefully keeps attendance throughout the year, so we know exactly where our entertainers are, or, are not! In addition, Kay Brown is the regal registrar who carefully concocts our special schedules. All three have horribly hectic tasks and deserve praise for the fine jobs they do in keeping the performers healthy, strong and busy throughout the day.

KITCHEN & MAINTENANCE

Every member of this illustrious production depends upon the sparkling showmanship of both the kitchen crew and the maintenance men. The kitchen crew creates incredible cakes and casseroles to provide every circus member with the energy necessary to perform. It is a decisively difficult job because each day they are deluged with seven hundred hungry performers. The maintenance staff is another much appreciated group of workers. They are in charge of keeping the performers' places neat and tidy. They build sets and are constantly improving the show. You'll notice also that there are never any stray peanut shells lying around campus! Without these crew members, the show would be seriously shorthanded.

Where would we be without the several thousand skills displayed each day by the marvelous secretaries? Fortunately, no one at Dwight Englewood knows the answer to this renown question because they're all so efficient. They're scattered at key locations throughout various tents on campus. They're very responsible, very productive, and definitely deserve a lot more credit than they're given. So, the next time you pass a secretary, smile and say "hi".

Junior Boys Tennis Takes Center Court

One of our youngest troupes of acrobats on campus, these 7th and 8th grade boys proved to be a bouncing bunch of brilliant backhanders bent on displaying their dangerously dynamic skills! Paul Hulleberg, their craziest coach in the ring reports that although his troupe's amazing and aggressive antics were rained out twice, and the record was 1-5 (Woodmere was the unlucky opponent), he plans to give a showstopping performance for the folks next time around.

Junior Boys Lacrosse is a Lively Show

Get ready for a great clear by Taymore

The bigger they are, the harder they fall

Next we present to you a solemn and serious seeming family of sporting young showmen. Underneath the rough-and-tough exterior of the Junior Boys Lax team lurks an exciting abundance of endless energy. A record of 2-7 disappointed us all a bit, but their wins against Allen Stevenson and Delbarton made the audience go wild. Their coaches Chris Schmid and Peter Platt express approval of their improvements and for next year's potential to impress the crowds.

Tough Cookies Work Wonders

These stars, affectionately called the Tough Cookies, stole the '84 spring circus show as they diligently presented daredevil demonstrations, such as their impressive six goals scored against Tuxedo Park. Their final record was 2-5, but having fun while practicing to work wonders was among their top priorities, even when our acrobats were faced with ominous obstacles. Clowning around is a key clue for success in the circus ring, but getting in shape and mastering skills were the high points of this year's show.

The plethora of palpitating performances of the Junior Baseball troupe is well put into perspective as the crowds witnessed their amazing feats in the ring this spring. They had an almost sure shot at the League title in their game against Buckley, but as it was, concluded the season with two content coaches and a 5-3-1 record. As these young talented acrobats move up the line to play J.V. and Varsity, the show keeps getting better and better.

Wow! — I caught the ball
Larry goes for the slides!

Junior Track — A Tremendously Talented Troupe

He makes it look so easy!

The crowds cheered for the 7th and 8th grade track troupe's tricks as they hastily hiked over the hurdles, relayed relentlessly, and killed off some of the competition. Though they never won any meets, these alacritic antics, arranged by Coach Peter Davies, became serious stunts to the 13 young stars. Working together was also high on the list of precarious performances; time, effort and dedication in the ring certainly paid off in spring '84.

Is this effort or what?

Junior performers attack life head on

Varsity Tennis Toils with Tenacity

The score in the ring was close this year with 6 wins and 7 losses for the spring '84 season. Still, some star stuntmen in the troupe gave stunning shows, such as Eric Haber, a semi-finalist in the State Tournament, and the MacDonald-Jones combo, champions in the Bergen County Doubles. Although coaches Fraser and Babington longed for a larger bunch of acrobats, the spunky seven stuck with it and will surely add much to next year's Varsity.

The Seven Superstars were:
Peter Kagan
Jeff Davis
Eric Haber
David MacDonald
Chris Jones

Boys J.V. Lacrosse Performs with Pride

Struggling along in the shadow of this year's stupendous varsity squad, the 1984 Junior Varsity Lacrosse team finished a tough yet enthusiastic season with a 2-6-1 record. Over the course of the season, 4 games were cancelled due to weather conditions, field problems, and opponents who were unwilling and unprepared to face this ferociously fantastic troupe of athletes. Some of the outstanding showmen were freshmen Steve Overbey and Dan Levine, and sophomores Pete Dully and Steve McCarthy. According to their invincible coach, Nate Zinsser, the junior varsity team should occupy a courageous corner of the circus ring next season and in all shows to come.

Coach Zinsser gives the team a pep talk.

And a one ... and a two .....

The thrill of the hunt!

Okay, we're ready. Now what do we do?

Is this one amazing picture of Arnold or what?!

Chris goes to goal gracefully

Of course we're gonna win!

Excitement, endurance, and energy were key expressions for these successful circus stars. In the spring of '84, their two-week Bermuda vacation in March added variety and vigor to their practices and was a definite positive propellant in achieving a proud record of 12-4. The main event of the show was the Garden State Prep Tournament, in which they blasted Blair Academy, 9-3. The eighteen enthusiastic acrobats were the most attention getting stuntmen of the circus sports show this season and will hopefully continue to excite the crowds next year as well.

No one could get past Anton and Pat even if they dared!

Girls J.V. Lax Leaps Into the Spotlight

J.V. Girls Lax ended on an even keel with a record of 5-5, a respectable representation of their readiness to play for the crowds. The two top pair of performers were Teddi Langbaum, who scored 19 goals, and Amy Oliff with 17. Lucy Karanfillian outshone her offensive opponents with 106 saves in only one season. Coach Clapp is pleased with the acts and achievement of the acrobats, and has hopes for an even higher record of hard work and healthy hustling next year.

STANDING: L. Karanfillian, A. Fan, C. Ambrosino, L. Gettenberg, T. Langbaum, M. Stenzel, M. Ix, C. Rosenbloom, A. Kitzis, C. Ix, J. Plotnick, J. Strauss, A. Oliff, E. Liu, J. Griffin, S. Cravioto, K. Mugler.

Girls Varsity Lacrosse Cradles Courageously

Of course we're going to win!

A shower-filled spring of '84 shortchanged these varsity stars as 5 games were cancelled. However, high-scoring performances were demonstrated by acrobats Alicia Schwartz, Hilary Lehrer, and Liz Hirsch. Goalie Thirza Moran contributed to the act by setting a new record of 41 saves in the season. Although they finished 4-6, Coach Granese, the stars' steady master, is quick to point out their 13-6 win against Montclair Kimberley in the first round of the States, and an 18-6 against Masters, two beautifully bright spots of the season.

Junior Varsity Baseball

For the first time in DES circus history, a J.V. Baseball team has entered the ring and showed its colors to the crowds. The troupe consisted of freshmen and sophomore (and one junior) daredevils who dove into the show and gave some dynamic demonstrations of baseball. A record of 2-8 shows some defeat, but insiders witnessed their never-ending efforts, especially against Collegiate and Montclair-Kimberly, their two winning endeavors. The guys gave it their all in slamming, stealing, and sprinting to produce some petrifying plays in order to paralyze their opponents. This bunch of broiling ballplayers added a dazzling dimension to the ring by igniting an epidemic of excitement and enthusiasm which the crowds hope to see in the future. The Varsity team has a lot to anticipate from them!

The Spring 1984 Varsity Baseball troupe gave the audience a once in a lifetime opportunity to witness their stupendous show at Shea Stadium, with an 8-4 victory over Dalton. In addition, they attracted admiration from all sides of the ring as they passionately performed in the rest of their 17 games. A final record of 8-9 knocked them out of the States, nevertheless, their bestial batting and ball-handling were anything but banal. Although many star seniors will have graduated, the coaches, Moreland and Golenbock, have confidence for the next crop of clowns who try to steal the show under the big top.

J.V. Softball Surprises Spectators

A 5-1 record, including a fantastic game with Locust Valley Friends, in which DES won 30-4, characterized the success of the '84 J.V. softball stars. The troupe, coached by Denise Orovio and Sam Bacon, consisted of 18 potentially powerful performers, each of whom practiced and played consistently. Most of them will be giving a great show on Varsity next year but there is no doubt that the girls who remain in the ring next spring will be as rowdy and ready to move as ever.

STANDING: Coach Bacon, C. Ershadi, K. Blatt, J. Lynn, K. Pruzindky, S. Sisko, S. Greenspan, P. Brodie, Coach Orovio, C. Boag KNEELING: K. Dunham, L. Wittels, R. McGuire, J. Fellows, E. Reisbaum, A. Jaffe, N. DiCarlo, C. Campos

Fifteen varsity letter winning girls put their hearts into becoming one of the best softball teams in the ring since the show began. An amazing batting average of .368 and an overall record of 13-2 astounded all their audiences. In addition, they won the MAAPS tournament with a whopping score of 24-4 against Staten Island, and made it to the States, but lost to Mount St. Mary's in the final game. The stunts of these '84 circus stars will be remembered for many years to come by coaches Meyer & Meyer.

Sprint for the finish line.

Several star stuntmen proved to be perfect pacers as they ran around the ring for the Boy's track team last spring. However, the spirit of the troupe, led by Jerald Krauthamer, depended on each and every member of the team. And what a display of spirit! Records reported to be the best in seven years were set by Ken Handel, Marc Jerome, and Dave Gendelman as they performed in the MAAPS tournament, in which the team placed second.

A fantastic show for the folks was flaunted by these fourteen female flying artists. Eight wins and three losses was their record, not to mention their terrific title as NJISWAA State Champions. Some of their spirited stunts included Mirna Goldberger's powerful performances in the shot put, hurdles, and discus, Stephanie Drain's state championship in the two mile, and Juniors Cynthia Kynard, Holly Myers and Lisa Landau in the high jump, two mile and 400 respectively. Leader Coach Vigneau lavishly lauded his troupe while the ringside viewers roared with respect.

The teamwork thrills the crowd.

As usual, Dwight heads the pack.

Courageously coached by Brito the Brave, this great group of superb students consists of six returning rogues, another who, unfortunately, fled the green, and, of course, the only fair maiden of the team who perpetually proved herself. Flipping down the fairway this unacknowledged group heroically held its own, and energetically enforced the elements of the sport. David Gettenberg, Gary Meyerhoff, Josh Rosen, Ted Tafaro, Elizabeth Ix, Michael Bromberg and the only senior, Ian Freedman kept the teetering team miraculously moving despite difficulties. Keep up the good work guys and gal!

Junior Field Hockey is Rowdy in the Ring

The "Tough Cookies", our renowned Junior Field Hockey team was again coached by the marvelous master, Betsey Carson. The enthusiastic ensemble of extremely dedicated cookies continued their season in high spirits and enjoyed bubbling breakfasts and rowdy bus rides. They worked hard during practices and individually improved their skills. Although their final record was 0-4-5, D.E.S. looks forward to having these tough cookies advance to become our next inner ring field hockey champions. The amazing and awesome athletic acts of our circus sports depend upon these young acrobats.

This tender troupe of tough track trainees were taxingly trained by Coach Blackwell as they rapidly ran over the rivers, through the woods, and even on the streets. They reached radical running heights they never dreamed they'd dare. The upper school x-country team looks forward to these new additions for their team.

Cheerleaders Rock The Stands

The fall cheerleaders inspired all of our varsity level teams this season. They shouted and screamed while athletic circuteers were fighting in the ring. They were terrific tumblers, snazzy splitters, and dynamic dancers. They rallied the school on Blue and White Day, and we thank them for their spirit and support.

This group of circus members continually captured the essence of the circus life at D.E.S. They catapulted kicks past opponents and silyly side-tackled their stunned adversaries. Coach Schmid was extremely impressed with these circuteers because they started the season with young and inexperienced performers, but ended with a capable and courageous troupe. The two captains, Chris Garbaccio and Pat Mundy led the team to its sweetest victory against Montclair-Kimberly in a States game. There is a great future lying ahead for this spectacular D.E.S. circus sport.

Girls Varsity Soccer is Sensational

Holly Myers' determination and fancy footwork bedazzle opponent

In only its third varsity level season, the Girls Varsity soccer team became a high-powered force in the MAAPS and NJISAA. The team's efforts in training were rewarded by a final record of 8-5-3. Their magnificent coach, Nate Zinsser, marveled at the talent that was masterfully maneuvered into a successful team. Captains Karen Zeitlin, Carolyn Lockwood, and Laura Harwood were the illuminating inspirations of the team that made for victory in the ring.

Sammi takes a swing

The victorious Varsity Field Hockey team ended their semi-successful season with a 9-7-1 record. The captains of this terrific team were Mari-Kim Coleman, Sammi Langbaum, and Andrea Welschenberg. Their cunning coach for the second spectacular season was Sherren Granese. The goalies, Liz Ix and Adrienne Buda, were coached by Rosanne Byron. The girls entered the state tournament and played their hardest in each game. They got to the finals but lost against Newark Academy 1-0. The girls had a great time practicing through rain and cold. These Bulldogs were more like greyhounds because captains David Gendelman and Marc Jerome consistently cruised during invitational and county championships. Their proud coach, Jerry Krauthamer was not only impressed with his courageous captains' perfect performances, but also his fresh 9th and 10th grade center-ring runners, who were devoutly dedicated and hard-working hustlers. This troupe's 6-6 record shows their steady showmanship and powerful plans for a rowdy future.

Gifted Gymnasts Grace The Gym

The agile acrobats flew on the parallel bars, straddled the vault, balanced on the beam and fiercely attacked the floor exercises. Coach Clapp was proud of the team's hard work and only wished that their competition was not so tough. Captain Hilary Lehrer led this competitive five membered team. Sophomore Anne Downes admirably represented the team in the County's and next year the team expects to have more representatives, and with the team a year older — to have a fantastic season.

This incredibly interesting group of girls gathered 2 times a week to focus on the fascinating fundamentals and learn the true techniques it takes to be a starting basketball star. Coach Clapp was excited about the 3-4 record as well as the supporting spirit of the fans. The high-scorers were eighth grader Janine Tracey & seventh grader Tori Abiad. The rebounding sensation was Angela Tardy. This team was full of energy and looks forward to an even more exciting team next year.

These boys spent many hard hours attempting spectacular stunts and by the end of the season most of them had succeeded in their prime performances. Next year they all look forward to more magnificent matches.

JV Boys Basketball Bounces Beautifully

Junior Varsity Boy's Basketball began the season with a brilliant bunch of boys. Coach Traendly worked wonderfully to turn these boys into competent and courageous competitors.

Mike Malhame and Leo Rosengart were two of the troupe members who added to the court sensation of this team. The boys all look forward to an exciting next year when some will emerge as new varsity stars.

These boys brilliantly braved their opponents and attracted appreciable audiences throughout the season. The troupe's resounding record was 8-15 but all the members of this hoop-hustling hoopla contributed quite conscientiously to their cause. Coach Brisk has worked with these basketball boys for years and years, and is very vocal about their awesome accomplishments. Seniors Jeff Siskind, Marc Jerome, Arnold Brown, Jimmy Schwartz, Mitch Greene and Steve Kushner led the team with wily willpower, and will be missed next year. But — watch out! # Girls JV & Varsity Basketball Gets Down To Business

The Girls JV Basketball team was an enthusiastic group of seven girls. They learned the supremely special skills of basketball and, while having a hard season, they all had a good time on the court. Coach Orovio also had a fantastic time and enjoyed all the dedicated girls. Mayumi Yamamoto and Kate Salvatore led the team and all showed great potential for a winning team next year.

The dazzling DES Girls Basketball team put on a remarkable show of courage and dedication. Many new players joined the team and dedicated hundreds of hard-working hours to the hoops. Although theirs was not a successful season, this group of girls put on an illustrious last performance by beating Saddle River and this win was worth all the effort and energy of the season. Coach Brito had a fun season and has hopes for the future of girls basketball.

All worked hard to get ready for the upcoming spring.

Hockey Continues Hounding Opponents

This newly instated team is one of the craziest crowd callers of our production. These acrobats skillfully skate at Mackay Park and persistently perform astounding acts of bravery while being brutally bullied and bruised. But none of this stopped DES's stupendous skaters as they went on to a 12-5-3 record. Coach Hulleberg and Coach Quarles consistently kept this troupe in check as they courageously captured the state championship for Division B.

A Midsummer Night's Dream: The Story of Titania and Oberon was last year's Spring play. It was the first production both directed by Greg Cummings and staged solely by the Middle School. The play, adapted from William Shakespeare's masterpiece, ran an hour in length and had a cast of approximately thirty students. A Midsummer Night's Dream is the story of the quibbles between Oberon and Titania, King and Queen of fairy-land. Daniel Kaufman and Miriam Sirota played the leads. Amy Limb was Philomene, the main dancer, while Samantha Frank was the main singer. The success of the performances was attributed to the creativity of the cast and crew during both rehearsals and productions. Special effects and unique performances in the aisles highlighted the play's success. In addition, original accompaniment was provided by Amanda Sorvino, Paul Hulleberg and Greg Cummings.

A grand finale

PERFORMERS IN THEIR PRIME

The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie, the first theatrical display of talent at Dwight-Englewood, was a delightful play directed by Martin Nordal. The colossal cast consisted of fourteen members headed by lead actress Mira Sorvino. She played Miss Jean Brodie, a teacher with "progressive" ideas about her student's learning processes. Other members of the cast included Joseph Cavallaro, Sean Carr, Peter Baker, Molly Leahy, and Judy Cowen. Some of Miss Brodie's young students were played by Tanya Weisman, Miriam Sirota, Jody Shiller, and Nils Iranil. Additional rounds of applause are deserved by the stage crew, led by Leon de Leone, technical director, as well. The stage crew provided excellent set and lighting designs of unique quality similar to those of other performances. The combined talents of Martin Nordal, Leon di Leone, and the stupendous cast received rave reviews by approving audiences.

Carnival Captures Romantic Hearts

This year's magically marvelous musical, Carnival, was a theatrical marvel intricately involving several scores of actors; close to 60! Appreciative audiences bid a fond farewell to old-timer Judy Cowen, and welcomed newcomers such as Jason Weiner with open arms. In addition to these terrific two, the remainder of the cast sparkled and shone in a truly circusy way as they thoroughly thrilled three audiences with show-stopping stunts and sweetly sentimental songs. Bravely overcoming two incredibly imposing obstacles — sickness and snowstorms — this creative cast catapulted to new heights of excellence, entirely enjoyed by directors Ann Crawford and Brian Aschinger. This circus family wishes that circus family much happiness and success in years to come.

Talented TSTDE and the Ultimate Ushers

Few of the perceptive people here at dear old Dwight know what these intriguing initials actually stand for. They symbolize the fantastic, fearless Theatrical Stage Technicians of Dwight-Englewood. Finally another annoying abbreviation can be swiftly understood. But the quintessential question is, is it totally understood? This awesome array of performers cunningly creates the incredibly intricate and absolutely amazing artistic sets which accompany our prime productions. TSTDE members — alias stage crew — build beautifully, paint perfectly, work wondrous lights like the long time leaders that they are, and move the professionally produced props around to create a truly enlivening effect. The group is headed by the marvelous, magnificent, multi-talented, flamboyant faculty advisor, Leon DiLeone. They are the helping hands based behind the avid action, these moving masters of many superb shows. Regrettably they receive little of their well-deserved distinctions. Some special show people stand out stunningly, such as the devastatingly dedicated Danny Fish, and remarkably reliable Robert Li, whose friendly faces we must sadly say "Syonara" to. Moving up among the catwalks, however, is the persistently present Pierette Pillone, whose circus skills surpass the imaginations of even the most eminent members of DES.

Another covert crew of proud performers is uncovered as the ushers step into the spotlight. Each production performed so perfectly is preceded by the patience and efficiency of these hosts who steadfastly stack and staple Theaterfare, the showtime program, and smilingly seat scores of circus citizens.

TSTDE — P. Pillone, D. Raynault, K. Goldstone, C. Hochman, R. Li, P. Pillone, A. Puchner, D. Fish

Ushers — L. Gettenberg, D. Post, missing: S. Jones, R. Malek, M. Salomon, A. Holzberg, N. LaMarca, D. Greenberg

David Raynault prepares for the big performance.

The Dwight Englewood Chorus, led by brilliant Brian Aschinger and accomplished accompanist Ruth Federman, presents three concerts with the orchestra every year. Mr. Aschinger cleverly combines the feeling of the season with an underlying theme, such as this year's "Americana" Holiday Concert, or last year's theme for children. The rousing repertoire of mystifying music is always a mixture of complex classical pieces and some fun, more upbeat songs. Also upholding the traditional English Bell Choir performances, these young musicians are a credit to our multi-talented faculty advisors. Their tireless work inspires not only top performances, but a family atmosphere, as the gutsy group is so small.

Dazzling Dance Company

Playful choreography by both teacher and students makes the Dance Company a credit to the entire production. New additions to the dazzling Dance Company this year are male dancers. Another quality of interest is the fact that these agile members range from grades seven through twelve. The Dance Company is a treat for the entire school and continues to grow in diversity and professionalism. As its magnificent members continue to leap into areas of skill and ability, they also leap into the hearts of each Dwight Englewoodian.

OUTRAGEOUS INSTRUMENTALISTS

Brian Aschinger — courageous conductor

Ann Crawford — accomplished accompaniest

As they tune up terrifically their ingenious instruments, Brian Aschinger rigorously raises his hands and Ann Crawford ticklingly touches the keys while in anticipation of the wondrous work, perfectly produced by the orchestra's superb skill and elegant expertise. The divine Dwight-Englewood orchestra meticulously meets three times a week until close to concert time when each marvelous member of the opulent orchestra selflessly spends humble hours of patient practice time at home as well, because the specially selected pieces are often enjoyable challenges. Multitalented music teachers Brian Aschinger and Ann Crawford work wondrously well together in basically balancing out the differences in age and skill. Special efforts were made this year to combine carefully the tremendous talents of the orchestra, choir, and dance company for the holiday concert.

JAZZ ROCK JAMS AND JIVES

Led by our fearless faculty advisor, Mark "the Magnificent" Holdaway, and superb student leaders, Henry Li and David Nanasi, jazz rock is a happily harmonious, dazzling display of marvelous music, new and old, perfectly pleasing to sundry scholars of all ages, such as yourself. The masterful musicians and scintillating singers patiently practiced in the John C. Swartley Arts Building quite thoroughly throughout the year. The music-making members of jazz rock carefully combined their intriguing interests and tremendous talents to peppily produce a superbly special show that got people's friendly feet tempestuously tapping and happy hands continuously clapping. The radical repertoire was undeniably unique, as it is every year, because the members cheerfully chose the special songs themselves. Obviously the captive crowd absolutely approved of the choices.

Fantastic Faculty Feats

This year, the faculty took great pleasure in planning the second annual art exhibit. The gallery in Swartley was decked with colorful crafts and outstanding artifacts for several weeks. This show included such masterpieces as hand-knit sweaters, sculptures, paintings, and photographs. Most of these creations were projects completed during the sunny summer months. The faculty took pride in sharing their talents with the appreciative students, and passing on their proficiency to the younger circus members.

Since it is solely for the middle school performers, it allows them to sharpen up all the skills that they will need for upper school publications. It features poems, creative stories, art work, cover contests, and photography.

One of D.E.S.'s delightful, prize-winning publications is the long-standing literary magazine called Calliope. Truly a triumph for those intricately involved, art editor Joe Cavallaro and literary editor Nancy Weber carry the creation on to climatic completion, along with their faculty advisor Frimi Sagan. This year, they smartly staged contests for the best poetry, short story, and humor pieces, the winners of which are unfortunately unannounced as yet. Loads of booming bake sales and terrific t-shirts were found around campus as students supported this script. Other members with overwhelming offices are assistant editor Marina Rosenfeld, and faculty member Jane Conley, who will lead these literists on to continued greatness next year.

The Scintillating Spectrum Staff

Top: R. Li, Mrs. Kanter, Mrs. Winkler Bottom: E. Holt, S. Timmapuri, J. Forbes, D. Nanasi

The many intriguing issues of Spectrum, the school newspaper, that were so sensationally "put together" this year represent the hard work that was done by the entire staff. This year's editors, Samantha Langbaum and Pamela Garber, have produced some of the best issues ever! Spectrum was filled with fabulous photos, amazing articles, exciting editorials, and creative cartoons. This authentic activity provides performers with a place to voice matters of controversy and congratulations. Each anxiously awaited issue reveals reading on various subjects ranging from Valentines Day messages to meaningful messages from the headmaster. Credit should be given to its seriousness and credibility.

Julie and Sarah — Parnassus people posing prettily

Captivating Co-Editors Elaine Holt and Sarah Timmapuri head our foreign language magazine along with faculty advisors Abigail Kanter and Diane Winkler. Parnassus' underestimated reputation belies its elevated calibre, as talented linguists turn out an outstanding publication year after year. It's spectacular staff and compatible contributors produce a fascinating array of prose and poetry in a myriad of languages. It is encouraging to discover that, since so many performers are either fluent in a native language out of school, or gain foreign fluency at school, we can produce such a unique and impressive magazine.

Sweet Valentine Hilary prepares flowers for Valentine's Day

Productive President Michelle Kelly and valiant vice-president Jeff Kolitch, along with fantastic faculty advisor John King, led a fierce student government. A few of the projects involved Blue and White Day, and Valentine's Day flowers. The superb student government also has an important impact on all other areas of Dwight life. Organizations such as the dedicated Discipline Committee, and a concerned Curriculum Committee display the dazzling talents of influential body. We wish next years leaders good luck, and hope they continue the tradition of excellent leadership.

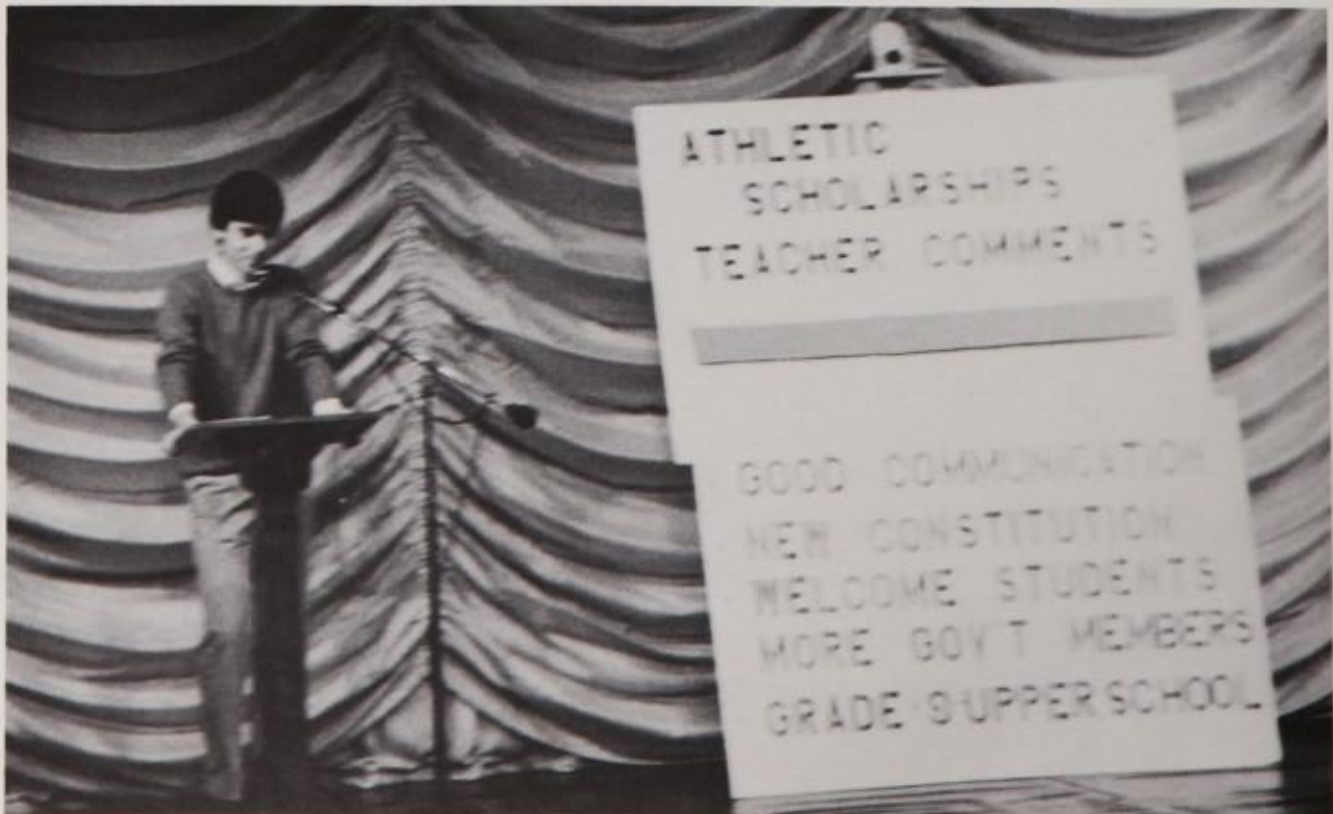

A marvelous manifestation of budding leadership qualities are energetically exemplified by this ardent association. Laudably led by the masterful Mr. Paul Hulleberg, this great group organizes such enjoyable events as the eight grade sleep over. These spectacular students involve themselves intricately with the powerful problems forever facing the magnificent middle school.

CHICKEN FIGHT!!!

Seventh and Eighth grade acrobats are arbitrarily arranged in Talk II and Peer groups. They are led by a friendly faculty advisor and two trainers who are actually animated students of the senior and junior classes and have taken an interest in creating an agreeable ambiance between the upper and middle schools. Dynamic discussions regularly relate to predominant problems concerning our circus cast. This contributive committee was an inspirational idea which turned into a remarkable reality and aids the comfortable colusion of our campus kingdom.

Admirable AFS and Dedicated DESO

The admirable American Field Service, run by faithful faculty member Carole Neivert, is currently composed of a great group of students interested in learning about different cultures and diverse people. This practical program allows animated students to go abroad or to come courageously to Dwight. They invariably enjoy their stays while living with a host family. This summer Nancy Weber went to Sri Lanka where she had some very memorable experiences. Later, she shared these tales of her life in Asia with the student body during an incredible assembly. She read several journal entrees, showed sumptuous pictures, and wore charismatic clothing which she had worn in scintillating Sri Lanka. Vincenzo Piscopo, from Venezuela, spent this year at Dwight with the senior class. He went to classes, participated in sports, and even spent a little time down in the yearbook office.

The splendid students of the dedicated Dwight-Englewood Service Organization are best known around town for their super-selling sales pitches, whether they are selling delicious Drake's Cakes, Valentine's Day hearts made of the world's choicest chocolate, or other divine delectables. These sincere strugglers religiously raise money in order to support a friendly foster child in a foreign country. This orderly organization is led by faculty advisor Doris Gelman and student leaders Carlene and Christine Campos. D.E.S.O. is an admirable tradition at Dwight-Englewood that deserves the very best from the supportive spirits of our school.

Sports Editors Julie Forbes and Karen Zeitlin patiently preserve those magical moments experienced on the field, court, rink or track, while all these spectacular scenes are captured on film by our on-the-scene Photography Editors Darren Rabenou and David Gettenberg. Loyal Layout Editor Stephanie Spencer is responsible for presenting in perfect form all that is put together. Business Editors Hilary Lehrer and Melanie Mayo blended their business minds to bring in the bucks that make it all possible. Molly Dieterich made the spectacular section of senior sayings come alive, and Copy Editor Lisa Gettenberg created the cunning clauses that make circus life clear. Bravely backing them all the way are familiar faculty advisors, Pam Lippmann and Rima Rothstein.

Spring Fair Schemes/Prom Committee Plans

This year's super Spring Fair committee splendidly succeeded in organizing a day of fun and frivolity. The members of this gallant group raise money for the Jonathan Wedeck Memorial Scholarship. The day is spent enjoying fun and sun as the playful performers of the junior class work together. Faculty members Mr. Bacon and Mrs. Phayer lend their support and praise to a group of truly dedicated students.

Fabulous faculty advisors Sandra Latzer and Malcolm Duffy conduct the careful prom committee members in creating a night of glamour and glitter for the juniors and seniors to enjoy. The outstanding zeal of these dedicated committee members enables them to choose a fascinating theme, select a dazzling dance hall, pick a booming band, raise multitudes of money, design intriguing invitations, and determine the menus for scrumptious dinners. This committee works diligently all year to make the prom a smashing success.

Get your mind on the game

The champion chess team continued its success this year. Cunningly coached and diligently directed by Mr. Salvador Figueras, this wonderfully winning team kept up the terrific tradition of patiently playing great games. They marvelously mastered the tricky techniques regularly required by masters of the muse. Parting participants of this harrowing hobby are seniors Josh Gurfein and David Nanasi. Josh has been a part of this clever club for two years, and David for three. We give them both a fond farewell, and offer our strong support for the continuing players.

Valiant VIP

Nelson and Lisa proudly provide volunteer programs.

Another new activity was fastidiously formulated this year by Mrs. Doris Gelman. This official organization is called V.I.P. The Volunteer Information People is a clearing house offering various volunteer opportunities to eager Dwight Englewood students. Chairpeople Lisa Gettenberg and Nelson Chen lead the meetings, arrange coffee hours in order to provide the students with information, and research future projects. This concerned committee finds vivacious volunteers to participate in programs for students of all ages. The seventh and eighth grade tumblers can work at Flat Rock Brook; the ninth through twelfth grade acrobats can work at the center for food action, hospitals, day care centers, and many more places.

A vivacious VIP meeting.

Dapper Daycare Delights

Is there time off for good behavior?

Take us to your leader.

The Daycare Center, located on the first floor of Leggett Hall, is where we raise our precious preschool performers. Daycare is a relatively new activity, run by Mrs. Vigneau, which provides mutual benefits to both the trainers and the trainees. Training

Practice makes perfect.

these young daredevils increases the trainees' senses of dependability and maturity. Tots enjoy apple picking, trips, nap time and exercise time. In addition, it allows the teachers to work well knowing that their children are being cared for by trustworthy students. In passing, one can often view the "CHILDREN ASLEEP" sign. It is a familiar symbol of innocence.

Marvelous Mock Trial and Daring Debate

C. Saphier, M. Smylie, J. Werner, N. Jaicks, J. Amins, M. Kester, J. Jacobson, J. Friendly

This lawful league is led by Mrs. Jaicks and currently competes with other schools in New Jersey. The members which include Jeff Amins, Jean Friendly, Carl Saphier, Mark Smylie, John Werner and other students prepare a case to perform at a courthouse. This troupe puts on a trial and they act as loquacious lawyers, wise witnesses, judgeful jurors and daring defendants. The object is to capture the title of best performance in the courtroom. An extra added attraction for these law performers is that they get an on-hand experience of how the legal system in America's courts operate.

Jean Friendly states her case

This year's Debate team coached by Mr. Richard Phayer has the potential to be Dwight-Englewood's finest. It was off to a great start with two winning teams — the first was comprised of Keith Rosenbloom and Scott Anagnoste; the second, Elaine Holt and Alex Xenopoulos. This special group of loquacious individuals was smashingly successful by taking sixteen of the top seventeen speaking positions during their first two debates. Debate is a growing activity that allows its members to vent their opinions in a garrulous fashion. This year's debate topic is unemployment. Due to the popularity and success of the Varsity team, which has eight junior members, a Junior Varsity team with over sixteen members was formed.

S. Agnoste, G. Meyerhoff, R. Phayer, M. Elliot, T. Gurulich, R. Rigolosi, K. Rosenbloom, A. Xenopoulos, J. Chuang, J. Schultz, E. Holt, E. Bluestone, J. Jacobson, S. Bober, B. Lyons, P. Baker

Powerful Puffball and Rapping Radio

Back Row: K. Steele, J. Cowen, J. Kim, J. Haberfeld, J. Smith, P. Dully, B. Franco, K. Rosenbloom, E. Allen, G. Kossmann
Front Row: T. Kudman, E. Holt, P. Leibman, S. Conte

P. Baker, C. Scoville, B. Rogers, D. Greco, Y. Wakatsuki, J. Woolley

An innovative edition to the circus-activity society is a profound puffball program. It is the brilliant brainchild of such puffball experts as Jordan Haberfeld, Brad Franco, and Keith Rosenbloom. These three masters of puffball perfection have worked hard at finding members and organizing meetings. Their main attraction is the fun these puffballers find in their marvelous meetings. Later in the year, the members all received uniforms, which officiated their standing in the Dwight-Englewood Community.

This intriguing interest of President Peter Baker, Vice-president Chet Scoville, and the rest of the radio crew has blossomed into a full-fledged activity which is exciting to both the workers and the listeners. This garrulous group faithfully functions every activity period by meticulously meeting and discussing the scintillating subject of amateur radio, and contacting strange stations from all over this wide world of ours. Hopefully this group will someday receive some of their well-deserved recognition, and become a bigger block of our DES existence. Casually considering the fact that both president Peter and vice-pres. Chet have made a lot of experience, and are only juniors, next year holds plenty of promise for the continuation and growth of an important activity.

Lighthearted Library Squad, Talented Tour Guides

These nine lovely little librarians lend their lives and limbs to the Leggett and Umpleby libraries. They are responsible for the upkeep of the perfect periodicals, beautiful books, amazing magazines, and radiant references that are kept in the quiet circus corners. This terrific troupe truly takes their tasks to heart and will perhaps perform someday as literary librarians.

J. Fried, L. Feder, M. Graham, T. Lewis, J. Tracey, A. Wright, H. Lightdale, J. Kato, M. Warren

"Taking a tour?!"

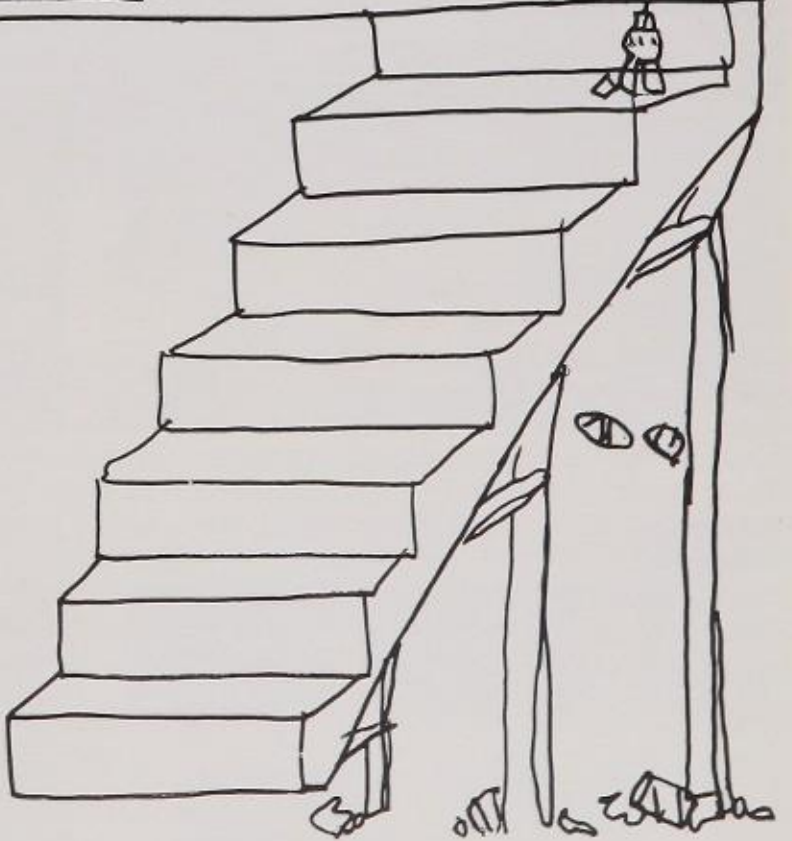

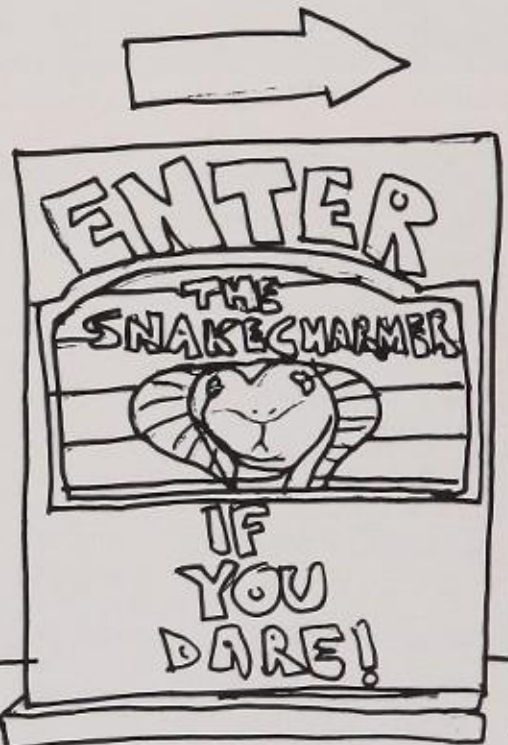

The trained troupe of tour guides shows a steady stream of perspective pupils the various views that are available from the array of activities and studies our institution offers. This introduction is offered to inquisitive students and parents as they take a quick cruise around Dwight's comfortable campus kingdom. All appreciate the superb services these splendid students supply.

Words can't describe ...

The seventh and eighth grade science students display their amazing abilities in the form of reports and projects. They work hard to finish them in time for the Science Fair, an annual performance held each spring. Each student chooses a topic that interests him. These topics vary with the imagination of the creator because the seventh graders are studying Life Science while the eighth graders are studying IPS. Their projects are graded by other science students and teachers in order to pick the top presentations. These students are rewarded for their superb work later in May.

DWIGHT WHEELS OUT WELCOME WAGON

Our honored head greets the gathering.

The crowd condenses as the ceremony starts.
Marvelous mottoes of matriculation.

One of the exciting events enacted in our establishment this year was the inspirational inauguration of our recently re-known ringleader, Dr. James Van Amburg. Victoria LaSala organized the opulent honoring which was held on November 11, 1984, and what a gala affair it was! A week before the Big Bash, elements from our Englewood community were delicately displayed for all to see. The benevolent board members and awesome administrators loyally led the proud procession, followed faithfully by the fabulous faculty and over forty specially selected students who respectfully represented their activities, clubs, and publications. The choir added their silvery tones to a heavenly rendition of "Jerusalem" professionally played by our own orchestra. Primo presentations were made by spectacularly skilled speakers such as Ms. Wojtyla, Mr. Heath, Ms. McEwen, Michael Malhame (class of '88), Michelle Kelly (class of '85), Ms. Blackwell, the artful actors Daniel Kaufman (class of '88), Miriam Sirota (class of '89), the classy combination of dancer Kim Steele (class of '85) and poem personifier Peter Baker (class of '86), and magical musicians Ms. Crawford, Pierrette Pillone (class of '86), and Priya Mayadas (class of '87). All dazzled us with their diligent devotion to the Dr., and to D.E.S. Yet none outshone the wondrous wave of words which Dr. Van Amburg wove into one warm welcome to the audience. The overwhelming enthusiasm of everyone present was released during the regal reception held immediately afterwards. How's that for a welcome!!!

A tantalizing taste of trips abroad.

Prom throws a Hardy Party

"Lift your hands up and shout!!!"

PLACE: Tammybrook Country Club

DATE: April 28, 1984

OCCASION: One of the most awaited nights of the year, an all-night affair, an evening full of romance and delight, one celebrated among two classes of friends —

THE DWIGHT ENGLEWOOD PROM!!!

What happens when you have a night at a luxuriously decorated country club, a ballroom, good food with super service, interesting and popular music, a chauffeured limousine, fabulous friends in gowns and tuxedos, about one hundred couples, an unusual curfew, and the junior and senior classes? You have a prom appropriately themed "Party Hardy!" Last year's prom committee, headed by former juniors Jeff Siskind, Mari-Kim Coleman, Steve Grossman, and Gina Lacqua, enjoyed spending a great deal of their eleventh grade time organizing their prom for 1984.

Some of the special treats at this year's prom included the unique band, the "Party Hardy" glass, and most memorable booklet which included a very creative poem written by Mike Leibman. It was a night of stars for the stars of our show.

Spring Fair was a super-special day for the fun-loving family members of the Dwight Englewood Circus. It was a day for raucous relaxation, hot dogs, ice cream sundaes, and most of all, grass skirts and leis!! The greatest attractions this year were the dunking machine and make-your-own-sundaes booth. The success of these delights was increased by the timely tropical weather that came as a real treat. The Fair was organized by co-chairmen Hilary Lehrer and Judy Cowen, as well as treasurer Marc Jerome. Thanks to these three, and others, this tropical paradise raised a handsome amount of money for the Jonathan Weddick Scholarship. It was a vacation in itself!!

COLLEGES COME TO OUR CAMPUS KINGDOM ...

"Listen, if these kids don't get into college, I lose my job!"

"Please sir, don't I at least have a chance?"

These college reps. won't take any flack!

Each spring, colleges from all over come to display their selective schools to the jittery juniors. The day consists of attending workshops, lectures, meetings and a final display in the gymnasium. Besides being a day of enlightenment, it's a day of entrance into the wonderful world of college hunting. As senior year approaches, the juniors begin to take on new responsibilities and make decisions that will affect the next four years of their lives. It is an exciting day for the juniors because they meet representatives from schools such as Boston College, Middlebury, Smith and many, many more. Mr. Brito and Mr. Duffy greeted the visitors and helped the students get acquainted with different types of schools. It also gives the students the opportunity to meet future interviewers and receive special information booklets.

Elissa helps keep school spirit aroused

Blue and White Day, the day before Homecoming, is a time when the entire production unites. Bulldog-mania is heightened by a day filled with banner-making and pep-rallying. Special cheers go to the activities designed to include every circus member and trainer, for they are integral parts of the day's routine. Traditionally, the day ends with the presentation of representatives from each scintillating squad, such as cheerleading, football, tennis, soccer, gymnastics, track, and field hockey, who in turns thicken the competitive atmosphere. Bulldog-mania sweeps the school with colorful results — every team member, spectator, and yes, even the bulldog are found adorned in blue and white and, oh yeah, yellow.

The big day is announced.

Homecoming Day marks the climax of competition at Dwight Engelwood. Each group of performers works hard in preparation for this true test of excellence. Superb skills and perfected performances are inherent parts of a successful Homecoming Day!!! To achieve this, team unity is stressed by each trainer. Some of the attention grabbers are acts such as football, tennis, soccer, track, gymnastics, and field hockey games. Despite the scoreboard results, Dwight Englewood's spirit and support are always unbeatable! Refreshments, banners and a special team mascot — the fearless Bulldog — are all found amidst the circus mania occurring in all three rings; Solomon, Graham, and Legget fields!

THANK

YOU

Now it's time to say "goodbye" to all my seniors. In my unbiased opinion, this yearbook, Curpe Dens II, is gotta be the final vestment comes from you all, however, since we did it all for you. If you enjoy perusing this pretty collection of pencil pages and pleasing pictures, please pay your kind compliments to the concerned contributors. (Illustration is Principles!)

You all realize that Dwight Englewood is a regular school filled with scores of special students. As excited as I was to get on with Life, the final frontier. "I just can't miss this chance to bid a final farewell to the other 117 seniors who have been a part of this growing experience. We have shared a lot, and learned much from each other through the years. And now an era of our lives have come to an end. Father and thought."

But there is another purpose to this page, aside from the previous, random sentiments, and, of course, the obvious intention of placing another picture of myself in my yearbook. What I'd really like to do is use this space to strongly urge the rest of you (seniors) and members to take advantage of your opportunities. The best things in life are passed in the pitchforks, so if you're gonna do something, do it up! Accomplishment is a wonderful thing, topped only by satisfaction.

Here are a few Cardinal rules for success:

With these, you too can run a "happy little life of busy bee."

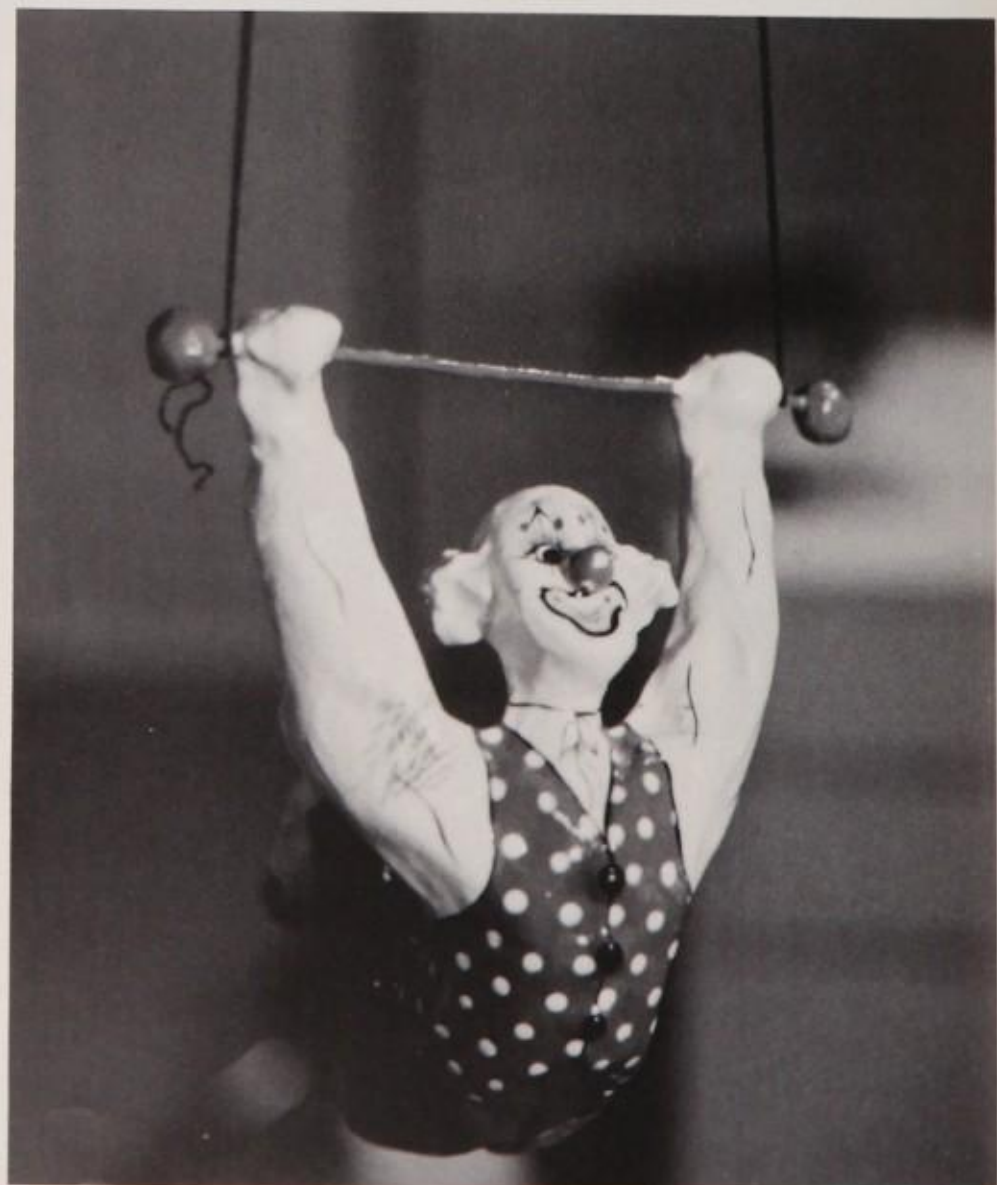

- 1. If anything is possible, you can convince people it's easy and fun.
- 2. Scream with a smile.
- 3. Repeat it, maybe it's up away.
- 4. Who, on the most practical side?
- 5. Wear up through 3 bags of cookies, 2 bags of chips, 15 loaves (with cream cheese), 4000s of socks, plus several other snacks. In one meeting of 7 people (no kidding!) because someone may get a migraine.
- 6. Never eat warm apples—they're disgusting!
- 7. After working past the eleventh hour in a small, enclosed room, be sure to find a recreation that plays some great mellow oldies.
- 8. Guard the pencils with your life.
- 9. Run, don't panic.

With these in mind, you too can experience the unforgettable feelings of: responsibility, efficiency, obligation, power, and, best of all, outstanding pride.

Now, if you'll excuse me, the world is big and interesting, and I think it's time I go there. Thank Mom & Dad, for being you any time of the day or night!

And to the students of DES, I hope you'll remember me as the year of "it's-a-great!"

Love, Meredith Goldberg

TO MELANIE AND THE CLASS OF 1985

HAVE A DREAM.

GO FORTH AND LIVE THE LIFE YOU SEEK;
SHOW COMPASSION, BUT DON'T BE MEEK.
TOMORROW'S WORLD IS YOURS TO MAKE
IN YOUR OWN VISION, BUT NOT TO TAKE
YOU MUST USE YOUR HEART
WHILE YOU USE YOUR MIND
AND LIFE WILL PAY YOU BACK IN KIND.
CONGRATULATIONS AND ALL GOOD WISHES!

CONGRATULATIONS TO KAREN
AND THE CLASS OF 1985

"To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better whether by a healthy child or a garden patch, or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived. This is to have succeeded."

DEAR MELANIE,

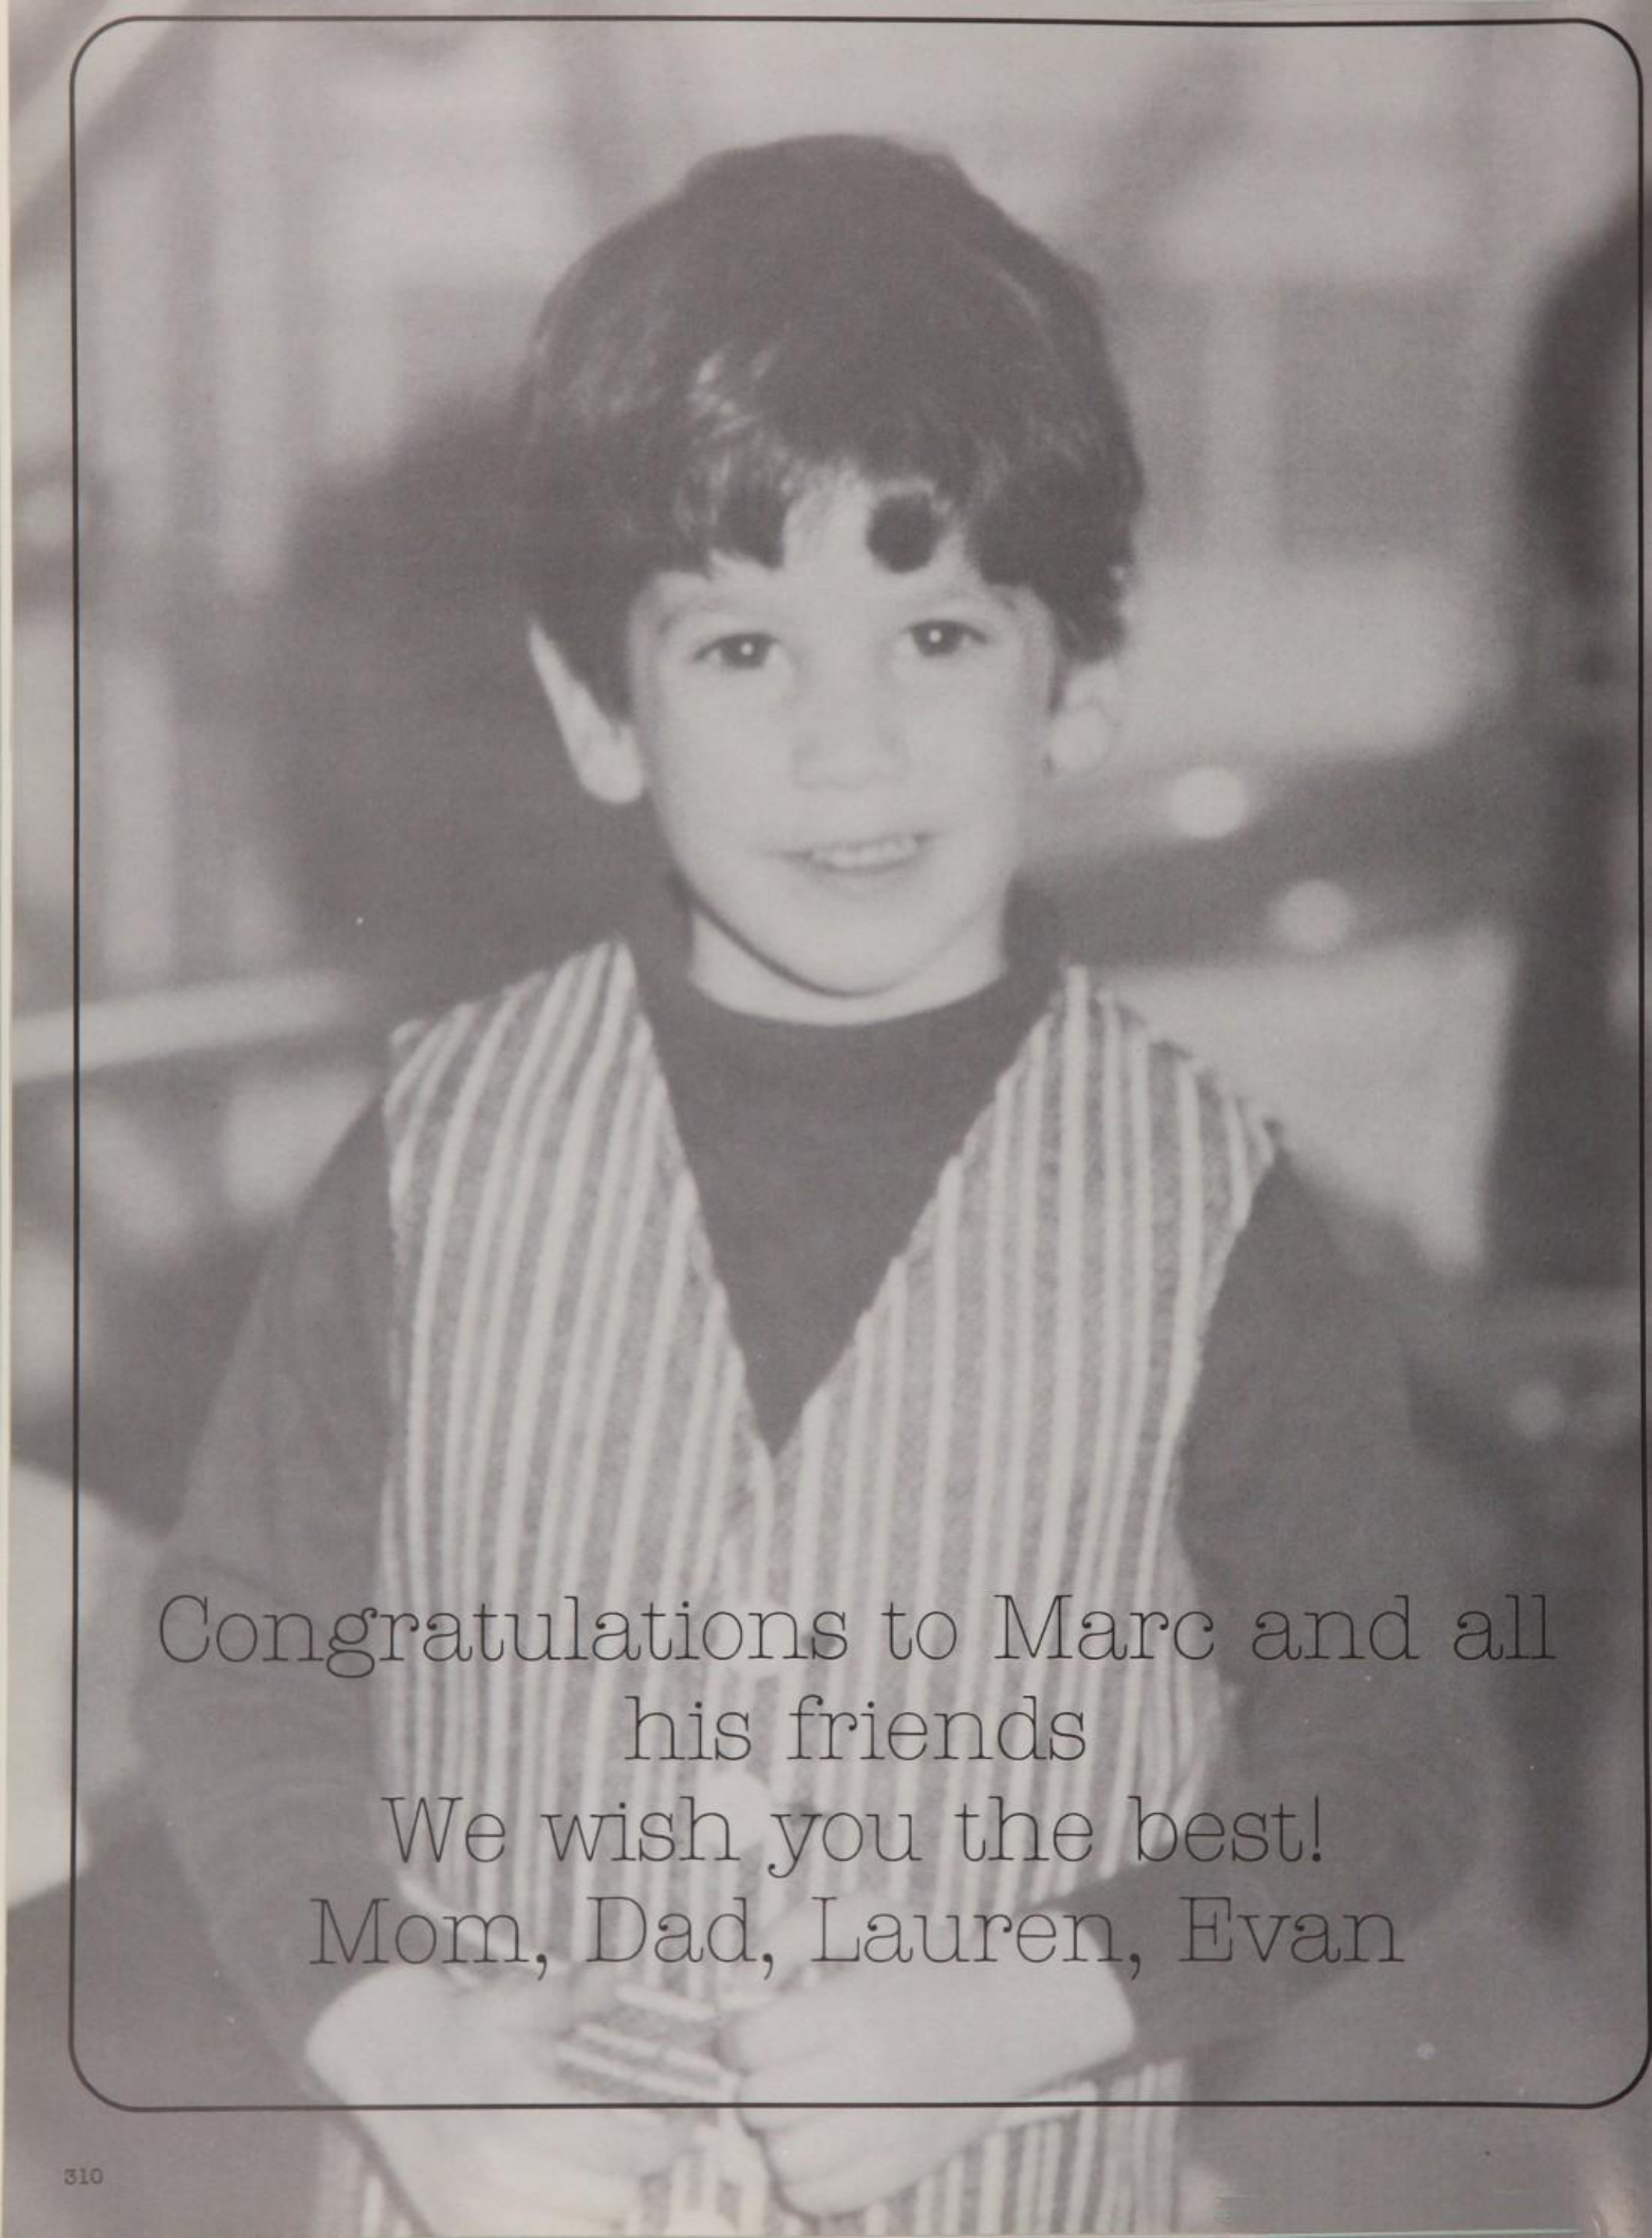

YOU HAVE ALL OF THE KEYS
YOU NEED TO OPEN THE DOORS
TO A WONDROUS AND FULFILLING LIFE. I HAVE NO DOUBT ABOUT THAT.

JUST PROMISE ME ONE THING:
IN THE RUSH OF YOUR LIFE'S EXPERIENCES,
YOU WON'T FORGET TO USE THEM.

I LOVE YOU,
DAD

P.S. CONGRATULATIONS AND BEST OF LUCK!
SUDY, STACEY, ANNIE AND DREW

Congratulations to Marc and all his friends
We wish you the best!
Mom, Dad, Lauren, Evan

Dear Mallorie:
Your zest for life
and special sense of humor have given us memories to cherish forever.

Congratulations to you and your friends in the class of '85.

Mom, Dad, and Stefanie.

To Gina
With all of our Love to a special

Mom, Dad and Michael

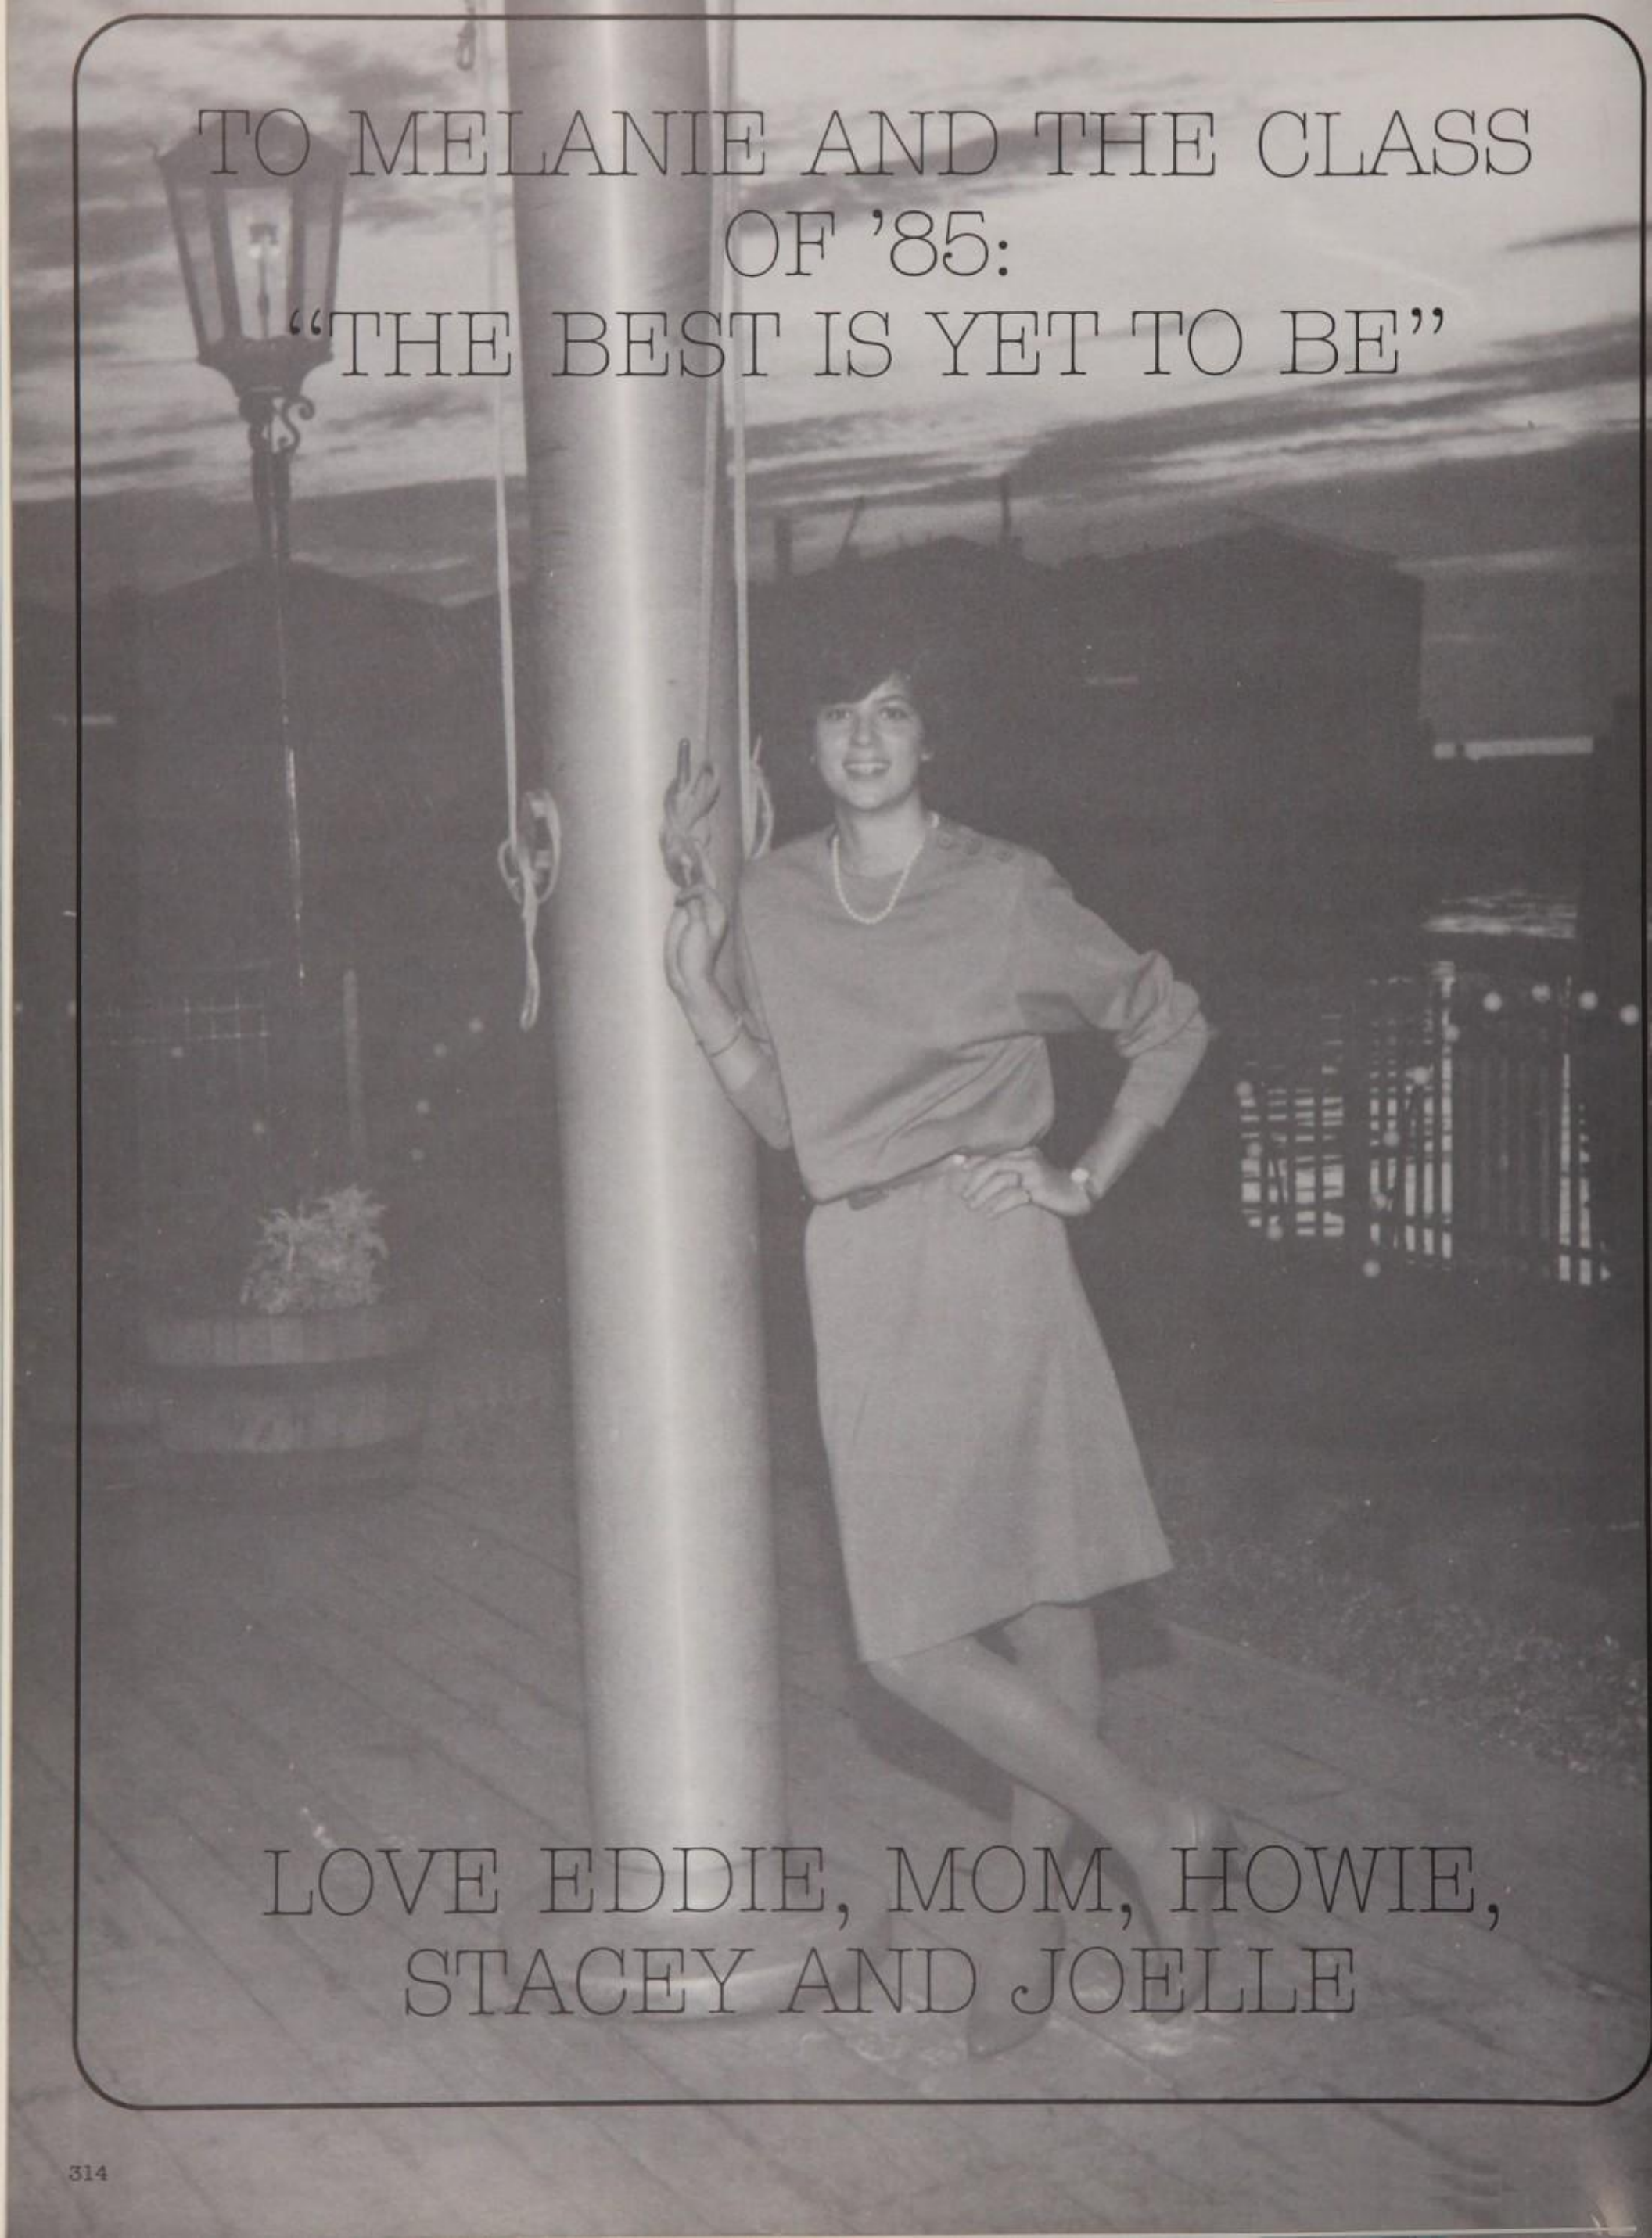

Be yourself
Like yourself
Believe in yourself
And tomorrow's dreams
Will become today's Realities.

MAY YOU FIND WHAT YOU
WANT IN LIFE, KNOW IT
WHEN YOU SEE IT, AND
HAVE THE GOOD LUCK TO GET IT —
AND KEEP IT!

CONGRATULATIONS AND BEST WISHES TO YOU, JEFF, AND THE CLASS OF 1985

Prom '84, disposable dress, next year a Winabego, brushing my teeth with ... New York City is not the social metropolis it seems to be, Xenon, Studio, Hi Guido, Peculiar's Sci-Fi at Area (thanks to the yellow jacket), Sacreligious at Limelight and of course the Underground ... Yes Bard, you're still popular at Brown Track State Champs by one point, thanks Mr. Bob and Kraut for the naked 400, hurdling over the high jump bar, velcro batons, my quest for my name in plastic, 4 years of tennis, thanks Hartzell and all the Frasers: Fester (not yet born), Shannon and Mar-babes, love to Cindy but not Ritu, Rose or Janet, new strokes every year and no net game but so much fun, I'm the relief man in Basketball '85 ... the Bad News Bears until the Rebels (without a cause), Senioritis, a need for the seniorectomy, Let's seduce the interviewer, "It's your life" M. Dufty, Mr. aburrido/Burrito, We'll try to be worthy of Thayer but you really didn't satisfy Roz, The Am-Stud Family ... Firm and Dor and the fundamental similarities between Hamlet and Lincoln, favorites: The Big Chill, Let it Whip, Shout, Risky Business, Cookies and Cream, The Tanning Center during Frees (nice Japitude), Me, Mark and Ant ... rejects from Spud U., We'll be goin' to Carolina in our minds, Summer in Spain '84, all my love to the Jap family ... M.L. te amo para siempre, Yabadabadoo, the best four weeks ever, Dreyer Head, Let's compare notes, similar taste, hormones, C.S. our new buddy, see ya in Providence, Madonna Hi doggie, no cheese balls for us, I hope you find Theodore, I'm glad Donna's was open, Niel, 49% is plenty for DooDay-FishyLee Productions Ltd., sorry about the new landscaping at the Clubear, partners definitely with a central park shaped jacuzzi but no Bruce on Broadway just picnics, 6 year friends (sofarso good), Sammi, I love your red teddy! Kathy Nicole, love those pilgrimages to the City in your sporscar, surfboogying will live on forever, Stirrups on the banister? Roster, have some energets lodged in our throats please, such gorgeous track — tennis calf muscles and rasta hair for us both, Marisca, such convenient pre-party fun and butiful modern art, you've come a long way since the Mikvah swim team, Lad, you Frenchorny Bowdoinite, We wasn't so bad?! Communication must have its benefits, Can I keep your jacket, pink is definitely your color, Liquid Sky and all the concerts were truly an experience, Is your Hair red? Don't worry about it! Continue to be mellow/hyper and disagree with everyone (it keeps the rest of us on our toes) What do you want for Christmas/Birthday ... subliminal messages, Carolyn Belinda, you are my bestest friend in the whole galaxy ... no matter what, on my honor we will try! You're the only one who understands everyone of my dotdots and yes, even if I am at the University of Honolulu, I will endure a Colby Blizzard to visit you, Honestly, I love being the last person left at every social function (better than the Love Boat and if I don't know the gossip, you won't), Someday we'll understand the method behind our madness but I hope not real soon, in ten years (make that five) you'll be raising 11 kids, designing pre-school toys and taste-testing salad dressings and Rondelets and will be the first woman happily married to 7 husbands at the same time. Forever I'll always be there and remember everything.

To everyone already mentioned and everyone else whom I love: you are behind each one of these memories and the ones they couldn't print, you are my closest friends, Be Happy! To Mommy and Daddy and my boys (Doogles and Buzzer) and now MissyAnne and my Grandparents who made it all possible ... also the teachers and coaches who gave me all my favorite interests ... and loved me inspite of me ... and Ajax, HUGS & KISSES FOR EVERYONE!
